I. MAYOR

Mayor Coleen Seng had no comments and called on Directors. Lynn Johnson (Parks & Recreation Director) announced the town is running a Government Square Fountain at 10th & “O” Street this morning, and we’re going to turn the fountain on this afternoon. We’re inviting the Acklie Family to come in who donated the money for the fountain, they wanted a relatively quite event to celebrate the fountain. The dedication is at 4:00pm this afternoon and the formal dedication is going to be on Friday, October 6th.

Police Chief Casady apologized to the Mayor for filling her in-box this weekend with email’s regarding Melissa Herrington. We have arrested her a couple times this past year for public indecency, she was found guilty at trial maybe a month or two months ago. She has used us as an economical development tool to enhance her website. The Mayor has had probably a dozen or so email’s, I have had probably between 50 to 100 over the weekend. We did investigate it over the weekend, so if Council members are getting fanned with City email’s about us violating Melissa Herrington’s rights.

IV. COUNCIL REQUESTS/CORRESPONDENCE -

JON CAMP

Camp asked Police Chief Casady to give, in a general way, an update on the fire truck investigation. The Mayor will also be giving an update but would like Chief Casady’s comments at this point. Chief Casady reported they have been working diligently on the investigation. The Technical Investigations Unit is making this one of their chief priorities, with a number of detectives and investigators involved. Chief Casady reiterated what was given to Council members, except for members absent, last Wednesday that they are not doing the investigation alone and have asked the FBI to help. So far have been involved in this investigation since a week ago Monday when he had his first meeting with the Technical Investigations Unit.

On Tuesday morning had a scheduled meeting with the supervisor of Special Agents in the FBI Omaha office and the U. S. Attorney. Did not announce the FBI’s assistance on this investigation until Tuesday afternoon in order to avoid any apprehensiveness employees might feel.

Casady continued saying it is not unusual to ask another law enforcement agency to help in complex investigations. The FBI was a natural choice as we’re looking into the possibility of financial crimes, or white collar crimes, and they have special expertise in these matters.
Also, the FBI has a history of working closely with our Technical Investigations team. The third reason is that the FBI has an investigative reach beyond the boarders of Nebraska, which might be needed in this case. So, this action is quite normal in cases of this type. Casady stated before the FBI can assist they have to believe there is at least some potential for a federal law violation. The announcement first made to Council members as Casady wanted everyone confident we weren’t going to be investigating alone and appreciated everyone not disclosing until formal announcement was made.

Casady said he has been asked how long this investigation would take with his answer being cases like this do take a long time. An example would be the Malone Community Center case where it was complicated, a lot of people interviewed, numerous documents, and consulting with the FBI and the County Attorney’s office. Gary Lacey, County Attorney, has assigned a prosecutor to be our liaison on this case.

Casady stated he was a little concerned last week as Roger Larson’s Opinion piece listed questions to be answered. All but a few of the questions had anything to do with the criminal investigation. We are not investigating why the ambulance service has not fulfilled the expectations the Fire Department set forth in 2000, it is not part of the criminal investigation. We are not management consultants looking into the overall operations of the Fire Department or in their financial planning, operational procedures, or any of that type of procedure. Basically looking into the transactions to see if there’s actions which would constitute criminal actions.

ANNETTE McROY
McRoy stated she did have a question for Planning. On the Directors’ Agenda, under “V. Miscellaneous, Item #11, the letter from Hoffman regarding the Hunter Pointe town homes and the grading plans. Krout stated he hasn’t seen it yet.

McRoy said to summarize evidently they’re upset as what was approved by the Council a few years ago is not being followed. The grading is right next to the existing town homes’ property lines and indicated they would want the Council to investigate the discrepancy. Newman said as a Hunter’s Pointe town home one of the conditions of the special use was there would be a noticeable difference with the grade three (3) to four (4) feet and it ended up being ten (10) to fifteen (15) feet. It was stated the City Planning and City Building Inspection offices have no power to check into this matter and appears to have slipped through the cracks. McRoy commented that she felt a follow up was needed to respond regarding if we can, or can’t, do anything about the rather large discrepancy. Nicole Fleck-Tooze stated they would look into the matter and reply to them and also to the Council.
