Mayor Chris Beutler will discuss changes for the City’s StarTran bus system at a news conference at 10 a.m. Thursday, May 8 at StarTran’s maintenance facility. Please enter the west door at 7th and “J” streets.

The media are invited to cover three events Thursday, May 1:
ONLINE BUDGET SURVEY AVAILABLE UNTIL END OF WEEK

Citizens will be able to take the online survey on the City budget until 5 p.m. Friday, May 9. The survey is being conducted as part of “PRIORITY LINCOLN: We’re listening.” The survey and more information about the public input process are available on the City’s home page at lincoln.ne.gov.

PRIORITY LINCOLN also included a scientific phone survey and a series of town hall meetings. Mayor Chris Beutler said the process is a step toward implementing “outcome-based budgeting,” a process that ties programs to the goals that citizens want local government to accomplish.

The City is working with the University of Nebraska Public Policy Center and the University of Nebraska - Lincoln Bureau of Sociological Research on the project. Partners also include Leadership Lincoln, Inc. and the Lincoln Community Foundation, which is funding the majority of the process.

The Mayor is scheduled to make his decisions on the 2008-2009 City budget this month, and the budget is released to the public in June. The City Council votes on tentative changes to the Mayor’s budget in July. The public hearing is scheduled for August 11, and the Council is scheduled to adopt the budget August 25.
Mayor Chris Beutler today encouraged the public to attend one of the open houses planned over the next few weeks to find out more about StarTran’s route changes which take effect June 5. He also said more changes are on the horizon for the City’s transit system.

“I want to make StarTran work for the entire community,” said Beutler. “I will do whatever it takes to make our public transportation system a model of service and efficiency. Change is imminent.”

The Mayor said the schedule changes are the result of a comprehensive study and were developed with valuable input from StarTran patrons. “We believe the new route system will be more efficient, provide better connections, reduce transfers and improve overall service.”

Beutler said more ideas and improvements are on the way. “I intend to explore the cost effectiveness of smaller buses,” he said. “I will seriously examine the impact of fairly dramatic changes in the fare schedules to encourage greater ridership.”

Beutler said residents indicated that public transportation was important during the recent “PRIORITY LINCOLN” process to gather public input on the City budget. “They indicated to us that they value public transportation and the important role it plays in the community,” said Beutler. “But they were equally adamant that they wanted greater efficiency. I heard a real concern about the cost effectiveness of operating buses that too often run nearly empty for significant portions of the day. I share those concerns.”

StarTran has planned ten open houses to provide new route brochures and answer questions. Two radio broadcasts are planned for the first day of the new routes. (Schedules follow this release.) While supplies last, StarTran will offer one free pre-validated pass to each person attending an open house or radio event.

“We hope to see many current and future StarTran patrons at these events,” said Larry Worth, StarTran Transit Manager. “With gas prices continuing to climb, more and more people are considering StarTran. We hope they will use the free passes to give StarTran a try.”

- more -
Worth said improvements include more frequent service on key routes, improved schedules, service to locations near Highway 2 on the City’s east side, new downtown routing, new neighborhood routes and a free downtown shuttle. Two main downtown route transfer stations will be added:

- In addition to the existing 11th and “N” Street transfer station, a new station will be added on the north side of “N” Street between 10th and 11th streets.
- In addition to the existing transfer station on 14th Street west of the State Office Building, a new transfer station will be added on the north side of that building.

For more information, call StarTran at 476-1234 or see the City Web site at lincoln.ne.gov (keyword: startran). The phone line will operate 24 hours a day through the end of June.

BUDGET

Uncertainty still surrounds FY 2009 budget process. Stalemates over the FY 2009 budget resolution and a FY 2008 supplemental appropriations bill have resulted in a very slow start for the FY 2009 appropriations process. However, even if Congress can manage to begin to move any of the 12 annual appropriations bills, chances that they will be finalized prior to the November election are remote.

Although the statutory deadline (April 15) for approval of a FY 2009 budget resolution has long since passed, congressional Democratic leaders are still holding out hope that House and Senate negotiators can complete a package for floor consideration during the week of May 12. The major stumbling block in those talks is whether spending for big-ticket items such as remediation for the Alternative Minimum Tax should be offset. Appropriations Committees are free to consider their annual spending bills in the absence of a budget resolution, but funding decisions are much easier to make when the spending caps are set and priorities are identified in the resolution.

Meanwhile, serious action on FY 2009 spending bills is likely to be stalled by a battle between Democrats and the White House over the components of a FY 2008 supplemental appropriations bill. The President has requested $108 billion to be spent strictly on overseas military activities, but congressional Democrats are eager to add items to further stimulate the economy. The original goal of having a supplemental to the President by Memorial Day is likely to slip unless an agreement is reached soon.

Most observers continue to believe that unless the President agrees to drop his veto threats of spending bills that exceed his spending limits, Congress will approve a Continuing Resolution that funds programs at or near their FY 2008 levels until after a new President is sworn in. FY 2009 officially begins on October 1.

HOUSING

Financial services clears last piece of comprehensive housing bill. The House Financial Services Committee cleared legislation (HR 5830) that would authorize the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) to refinance $300 billion in mortgages facing foreclosure. Ten Republicans joined all panel Democrats in support of the bill.

Under the bill, sponsored by Committee Chairman Barney Frank (D-MA), FHA would take over and refinance mortgages facing foreclosure if the lender agreed to absorb the difference between the outstanding loan amount and the actual value of the home. FHA refinancing would only be available for pre-2008 mortgages on owner-occupied primary residences.

Frank said that he expects to combine HR 5830 with a number of other housing bills approved by his Committee as well as with a package of tax provisions (HR 5720) approved by the Ways and Means Committee. The other housing bills include:

- A bill (HR 5818) that would authorize $7.5 billion in grants and $7.5 billion in loans for state and local government acquisition and rehabilitation of foreclosed homes for resale or conversion for affordable rental housing,
- Legislation (HR 1427) to modernize FHA and increase regulation of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac.
A measure (HR 2895) to create an Affordable Housing Trust Fund. Franklin said he hoped to clear his comprehensive housing bill for the President’s signature before July 4. Although the House will likely pass any package Franklin and the House leadership choose to bring to the floor, several obstacles remain. While the Senate has passed a foreclosure prevention bill (HR 3221), it has yet to consider measures to modernize FHA, increase oversight of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac or to create an Affordable Housing Trust Fund. However, all of those measures face potential opposition in the Senate, so Senate Banking Committee Chairman Chris Dodd (D-CT) is reportedly trying to craft consensus legislation.

In addition, although it has stopped short of a veto threat, the Administration has voiced concern that Franklin’s foreclosure prevention bill could overwhelm FHA and put taxpayers in the risky position of guaranteeing thousands of shaky loans. The Administration also remains opposed to an Affordable Housing Trust Fund and has concerns with aspects of the FHA modernization bill. However, most observers agree that given the depth of the foreclosure crisis, the Administration remains open to negotiations with Franklin and the congressional leadership and that a comprehensive foreclosure prevention and housing bill could become law this summer.

TRANSPORTATION
Senate debates FAA measure. The Senate was unable to complete action this week on the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) Reauthorization Act of 2007 (HR 2881). Consideration of the bill stalled mid-week over a controversial provision that would have changed the rules governing airline pension plans. While that had reportedly been rectified, other obstacles stand in the way of final passage of the bill.

Most significantly, Senate Republicans are mounting an effort to strip certain non-aviation related tax provisions out of the bill, including provisions that would direct $5 billion to the Highway Trust Fund, which is facing a deficit of $3.2 billion in FY 2009. This and other sticking points have pushed consideration of HR 2881 into next week. A procedural vote to limit debate on the bill has been scheduled for Tuesday, May 6. If that vote fails, a final agreement on the bill does not appear likely.

Should the procedural vote pass, Senators are likely to offer many more amendments, including attempts to address rising oil and gas prices, investigation into alternative fuels for jet aircraft, runway safety provisions, and an airline passenger “bill of rights.”

House clears SAFETEA-LU corrections for President. In a related event, the House of Representatives adopted the Senate-passed version of the SAFETEA-LU Technical Corrections bill (HR 1195). This bill would clarify and correct some portions of the enormous surface transportation authorization bill approved in 2005.

Consideration of the bill stalled in the Senate over competing amendments ordering the investigation of an earmark for a road project in Florida in SAFETEA-LU that was changed during the enrollment process, which is the period after all congressional action and just prior to the bill being sent to the desk of the President for his signature. In the end, an amendment was approved to require the Department of Justice to carry out the investigation. Rep. Don Young (R-AK), the lawmaker believed to be responsible for the last-minute change (and Chairman of the House Transportation and Infrastructure Committee when SAFETEA-LU became law), insists he did nothing wrong and welcomes any scrutiny of the matter.

Other significant provisions of HR 1195 include a blanket authorization for preliminary engineering, final design, and construction of New Starts/Small Starts transportation projects that have been recommended for funding in FY 2008 and 2009, and a reduction of the minimum penalties states are required to impose on repeat drunk drivers in order to avoid a loss of federal highway funding.

The bill will now be sent to the desk of President Bush for his signature. Bush had expressed concerns about the bill earlier in the consideration process, but to date has not threatened a veto. Both the House and the Senate approved the bill with enough votes to override a veto.

EDUCATION
House committee clears school construction measure. The House Education and Labor Committee this week approved legislation (HR 3021) that would authorize funds for the modernization, renovation, and repair of school facilities.

The measure would authorize $6.4 billion in FY 2009 and “such sums as may be necessary” for FY 2010 through 2013. Funds from the program would be distributed to local education agencies based on the same percentage of funds public schools receive under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, with every Title I school district receiving at least $5,000.

In addition, the bill requires that funded projects meet at least one of the three widely recognized green building standards (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED); Energy Star; or Collaborative for High Performance Schools) or equivalent state or local standards. That requirement could be waived in certain circumstances, but ultimately 90 percent of the funds allocated must be used for “green” projects. Workers on all the funded projects must receive prevailing wages under the Davis-Bacon law.

The bill also authorizes $500 million over five years for public schools that were damaged in the Gulf Coast by Hurricanes Katrina and Rita in 2005.

Bill sponsors are confident that the measure will be considered on the House floor this year, but are less confident that it would be approved or funded in FY 2009 due to Presidential opposition and budget constraints. House Education and Labor Committee Chairman George Miller (D-CA) called the legislation “a forward-looking bill.”
ENVIRONMENT
EPA proposes new lead standard. The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) issued a notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) outlining possible new National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) for lead. EPA last updated the lead standard under the Clean Air Act in 1978. EPA is suggesting a standard of 0.10 micrograms per cubic meter, 0.3 micrograms per cubic meter or 0.50 micrograms per cubic meter, down from the current standard of 1.5 micrograms per cubic meter, measured in terms of suspended particles in the air. EPA is under court order make a final determination on new lead standards by September (Missouri Coalition for the Environment v. EPA).

In its December 2007 advanced notice of proposed rulemaking, EPA had proposed eliminating the lead standard, citing the fact that lead emissions have fallen 98 percent since 1980, an approach favored by battery manufacturers and other users of lead. The Clean Air Scientific Advisory Committee, which is responsible for conducting the research that lays the groundwork for setting new clean air standards, rejected this approach. In a strongly worded letter to EPA Administrator Stephen Johnson, the Committee called EPA’s original proposal “entirely unsuitable and inadequate for use in rulemaking” adding that it “represents a remarkable weakening of the scientific foundation of the NAAQS review process.” Based on its research, the Committee recommended a new standard of 0.20 micrograms per cubic meter.

In its NPRM, EPA estimates that 12 of the 90 counties currently monitored for lead would fail to meet 0.30 standard and that 24 counties would fail to meet the 0.10 standard. The NPRM also proposes expanding its network of lead monitors to include large lead emissions sources and urban populations greater than 1 million people.

Comments on the proposed rule are due on July 1 and can be found at: http://www.epa.gov/air/lead/actions.html.

In addition, EPA has scheduled two public meetings on the NPRM for June 12, one in Baltimore and the other in Saint Louis. Once the new standards are issued, EPA plans to begin working with the states immediately on attainment designations and to implement its new monitoring network in 2009.
The Audit Advisory Board created by ordinance 19007 met for the first time on April 23, 2008. During this initial meeting, City staff reviewed with the Board, Section 4.66 of the Lincoln Municipal Code that was created by the passage of this ordinance.

In accordance with the code, the Audit Advisory Board elected a Chair and Vice Chair. These individuals are as follows:

   Chair, Michael Justus
   Vice-Chair, Steve Bowen

In addition, the Board authorized me to request from the City Council a resolution that identifies potential areas that you would like the Board to consider for possible review in accordance with the above referenced ordinance.

The specific section of the municipal code is 4.66.040 and it reads as follows:

\[(a)\text{ When directed to do so by resolution of the City Council, determine whether an audit, as suggested in Council's resolution, is appropriate and desirous. In order to make this determination, the Board may consult with department heads to familiarize themselves with information necessary to make an informed decision on whether and what type of contract audit should be conducted. If the Board determines that such an audit is not appropriate and desirous, the Board shall forward such decision in writing to the City Council.}\]

The Audit Advisory Board looks forward to your recommendations. Please let me know if you have questions.
Latex Paint Exchange May 17: Take or Bring Paint to Pfizer

For the eleventh consecutive year, Pfizer Inc will again partner with the Lincoln-Lancaster County Health Department (LLCHD) to host a Latex Paint Exchange in conjunction with a Hazardous Household Waste collection on May 17, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., at Pfizer’s plant at 601 West Cornhusker Highway.

Dan King, Environmental Health Specialist with LLCHD, encourages residents who could use free paint to stop by and check out the selection. “We’ll have both exterior and interior latex paint, and would like to give it back to those who can use it,” King said. “Anyone can take paint home,” he emphasized. “You don’t have to bring paint to take paint.”

Only Lincoln and Lancaster County households and individuals (no businesses) can bring usable latex paint, but anyone—individuals, families, organizations, landlords or businesses—is encouraged to take paint from the exchange. Latex paint is usable if it is at least half-full, if the label is intact and readable, if it has not been frozen, and if it mixes without lumps when stirred.

LLCHD is working on a pilot project with local ACE Hardware, True Value Hardware, and Sherwin Williams stores to encourage residents to properly manage their paint. “We encourage home painters to measure carefully, buy only the amount they need, and recycle or dispose of it properly,” King explained. One alternative for leftover paint is to mix several colors to use as a primer, or offer it to neighbors, churches, schools, or community groups who can use it. Re-use or recycling is preferred to disposal. Latex paint should never be poured into storm drains, driveways or streets. Brushes and rollers should be cleaned inside in a sink, never washed out at the curb. Storm drains go directly to our streams and lakes, and paint can kill fish and cause other environmental damage.

Households with small amounts of unused latex paint (less than a half gallon) can dry it out and discard solidified paint in regular trash, with lids off the cans so haulers can be certain it is dry. Haulers cannot accept cans of liquid paint.

Other items accepted at the HHW collection include pesticides, paint thinners, stains, polishes and waxes, turpentine, oil-based paint, pool cleaning chemicals, insect and rodent poisons, starter fluids, mixed or old gasoline, mercury-containing items (including compact fluorescent light bulbs), grease removers, and brake and power steering fluids.

Items that can be recycled or disposed of locally and will not be accepted at the HHW collection include motor oil, gas grill cylinders, pharmaceutical waste, electronics, computers and batteries.

“Fortunately, the local options for recycling are expanding,” King noted.

For more information, contact the Lincoln-Lancaster County Health Department at 441-8021, or check the health department website at www.lincoln.ne.gov (keyword: “household”).

Additional Household Hazardous Waste Collections are scheduled for June, September, October, and November.

Dr. LaDue:

Councilman Cook asked me to respond to your email concerning the Xebra. The rapid and recent proliferation of alternative vehicles of various types has greatly complicated the task of determining which are legal for operation on the street and which are not. The Nebraska Statutes on such issues are lengthy and complex, and there are vehicles today that were never anticipated at the time these cumbersome definitions were adopted. You will probably get a variety of opinions from law enforcement officers when you ask about this vehicle.

I believe, however, that the 3-wheeled Xebra meets both the State Statute and City Ordinance definitions of a motorcycle, and hence, could be lawfully titled, registered, and driven on the street by a person who holds a Class M (motorcycle) operator's license and wears the required DOT-approved helmet. The vehicle is quite similar to the Cushman Truckster, which was manufactured here in Lincoln for a few decades, and driven by dozens of Lincoln police personnel. I still have about ten employees who spent some significant time in a three-wheeled police Cushman prior to the demise of the product in the 1980's.

The 14-inch wheel specification referred to in this chain of emails is based on the definitions in both State Statute and Municipal Ordinance of "minibikes." That definition, however, also specifically states that a minibike has two wheels. Since this vehicle has three wheels, I do not believe that it is a minibike.

Nevertheless, I am not a lawyer. I would not invest in one of these vehicles unless I had solid confirmation from the Nebraska Department of Motor Vehicles that the vehicle is street legal, and can be registered and licensed. Personally, I'd want something in writing, because I imagine that County Clerks are as confused about this as police officers.

Comment or Question:
Hello,

I am a big proponent of being green and wanted to do my part in Lincoln. I wanted to buy a Xebra by Zap!, an electric car with 0 emissions that goes up to 40 mph. There is a company in Kansas that sells these cars (see the comments below). They are street legal in the surrounding states, but not in Lincoln. I need your help to get the laws changed to allow these 0 emission cars on the streets of Lincoln. Below is the information. Please feel free to contact me with questions or ways we can get the law changed.

Subject: Re: Zap Xebra

Hello,
A Xebra sedan is $11,900.

There is a problem though. I just spoke to someone in Lincoln last week (I'm from Falls City, NE. and have relatives in Lincoln) and he said that Lincoln has a law that motorcycles must have 14" tires and wheels (the Xebra is registered as a motorcycle). The Xebra has 12" tires. You can put 13" tires and wheels on, but not 14". The person I talked to said he would not be able to legally drive the vehicle in Lincoln.

If you want to try and get the law changed, you may be able to get an exception to the law written in so Xebras would be legal in your City or State. They are street legal in most States including Kansas, South Dakota and Iowa.

I would be happy to help in anyway I can. Even though I am a licensed car dealer in Kansas, I got into this business to get more EVs on the road. I sell electric cars but I don't consider myself a "car salesman" if you know what I mean. If I can help, let me know. If you have more questions, feel free to give me a call.
I included a flyer for the ZAP PK but the specs are basically the same for the Sedan. I also included a copy of the Nebraska Motorcycle manual. By what I see in the manual, Xebras are legal so the law might just be a City ordinance. They might just be trying to keep those tiny motorcycles off the street that got popular a few years ago. A lot of Cities put in ordinances in place to try and get those things off the street.

Greetings!

The public hearing for the proposed change to the weed ordinance is scheduled for Monday, May 12th at 5:30 pm. The proposed change is to increase the weed height from 6" to 12". The change is being presented by Russ Schultz who is with the County Weed Authority. As you all know the City of Lincoln contracts with the County Weed Authority for inspections, compliance, and abatement in the City limits.

Please attend the City Council meeting to speak in opposition of the proposed ordinance change or come show your support of your neighborhood by making a strong physical presence at the meeting. It is important that we send the message to our representatives that WE set the standards where we live (in the Heart of Lincoln neighborhoods). We cannot allow our neighborhoods to continue to deteriorate. Please encourage your neighbors and fellow neighborhood association members to attend by forwarding this e-mail to all on your lists.

Also, I have included an excerpt below of information that is being used by the County Weed Authority to support their case to change the ordinance.

In 2007, inspections were made on 2,103 sites as a result of complaints and inspector observations. Violations were found on 1,655 sites. No violations were found on 424 sites that had received complaints. The 116 violations with heights of 7 to 11 inches make up only 6% of the violations. Many of the complaints for overgrowth at these heights are mowed in the one to two days before they are inspected, as reflected by the 424 sites inspected as a result of complaints with no violations. These non-violation inspections combined with the inspections of sites with vegetation at 7 to 11 inches made up 28% of the total sites inspected. If the height change had been in place it would have eliminated the need to inspect these 540 sites that would not have been in violation. This inspection and office time could have been directed at the more serious overgrowth problems.

We are making other plans to reduce notification costs and to reduce the delay time created by waiting for the postal service notice of failure to deliver (It took 30 days to receive these notices). We were using certified mail with return receipt requested and publishing the notice in the paper if the owner was in question. The postal service will no longer be providing the return receipt service with the certified mail.

We plan to make all legal notifications by certified mail without return receipt requested. If it is necessary, we will proceed with the process of forced cutting after 10 days. We will not use published notices which have been costing $20 each. This approach will reduce our notification costs and improve our response time greatly. I would appreciate support in getting the height changed. I will look at getting a Lincoln Senator to seek a revision in the state statute next year.

Hope to see you all at the meeting!

Best,

Shawn

Dear Council Members,
The Hawley Area Neighborhood Association in the Malone area is opposed to the change in the weed ordinance from 6" to 12".
By the time we in the old neighborhoods notice that something isn't being maintained, it is alot higher than we maintain our own areas. Then we report the property to the city and it could be 1 week or many weeks before it goes to the County Weed Authority and then even more time before something is done about it.
The last 2 years we have had a house that is empty and was foreclosed, so the mortgage company or bank owned it. The yard was continually reported but it was never taken care of.
A house that is not maintained or a yard that is overgrown is a problem for all residents of the neighborhood, but this weed ordinance is one of the few things that help us keeping the neighborhoods looking valued and respected.
Please do not make it worse by increasing the height to 12".
Thank you,
Peggy Struwe, President, Hawley Area Neighborhood Association
Mr. McCoy

We recently received a letter in the mail from you stating that would no longer be receiving bussing for our children due to the new school boundaries. Not only did this come as a surprise but was concerning as we live south of HWY 2 and our children would have to walk over 2 miles to school each day. We neither moved nor did the school so we still live just as far as we did last year. I the tax payer wonder why this change was maid and why I was not informed before the desision was maid. I would appreciate a call from anyone who would have the answer to these questions.

OPEN HOUSE ON EAST BELTWAY SET FOR MAY 15

The public is invited to an open house Thursday, May 15 to learn about corridor protection plans for the East Beltway. The meeting is from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Cornhusker Council, Boy Scouts of America, OEC Woods Room, 600 S. 120th Street in Walton.

The East Beltway is planned to be a four-lane divided freeway between 120th and 134th streets. It would extend 11 miles from Nebraska Highway 2 to Interstate 80 near the Waverly Interchange. Corridor protection plans will show the approximate layout of the proposed beltway and the impact on property associated with the project. Officials will use the plans as a tool to protect the corridor from development or construction that may be costly to remove later.

Representatives from the City of Lincoln, Lancaster County and HWS Consulting Group will be available to discuss the project and answer questions.

More information on the open house is available by calling Dawn Steffen at HWS Consulting Group at 479-2200. More information on this and other City Public Works and Utilities construction projects is available on the City web site at lincoln.ne.gov (keyword: projects).
Mayor Chris Beutler today signed an Executive Order that prohibits City Department Directors and Mayoral Aides from contracting with the City. He said the action is part of his effort to make City government more accountable and transparent.

“The Directors and Aides hold positions of authority and influence in my administration,” said the Mayor. “They are valued members of my team, and they are here because I trust their judgment. Nevertheless, I want to avoid even the appearance of impropriety that naturally arises when a high-ranking City officer contracts with the City.”

Beutler thanked members of the Charter Revision Commission for bringing the potential conflict of interest issue to the attention of the community. The Commission asked the City Council to put on the May ballot an amendment that would have prohibited elected officials and Directors from having contracts with the City.

Council Member John Spatz proposed an ethics ordinance that did pass. Beutler has signed the legislation, and he thanked Spatz for his efforts. The Mayor said he also continues to support an effort to put the original charter amendment on the November ballot. “I continue to believe that such a ban is, quite simply, good government,” he said.

No Department Directors of Mayoral Aides have contracts with the City at this time.

Beutler said the Executive Order is a continuation of his efforts to restore the public’s faith in City government. Those efforts include seeking public input on the City budget and services; creating a new City audit committee; and re-establishing a cooperative relationship with the City Council.

“With the help of my dedicated Directors and an energized City workforce, we are changing the culture of City government,” said Beutler.

I hope you will vote to retain the six inch standard for weed control. Just imagine your nice next door neighbor sells the property to somebody who allows the grass to be a foot high. Lincoln needs more enforcement on this issue, not less.

Thanks for your consideration of this issue.

Dear Mr. Marvin,

Please vote against the proposed changes in the weed ordinance. As a board member of the Near South Neighborhood Association, I am concerned about the impact this ordinance change will have on this and other core neighborhoods.

The proposed change can only have a negative impact on property values in this area, hurting the city overall. It seems inconsistent to make changes that will weaken core neighborhoods just weeks after Mayor Beutler announce his intention to do just the opposite.

The savings that might accrue from this change will likely be far out weighed by the reduction in property values, and thus property taxes, in addition to the impact on quality of life in this neighborhood.

Thank you for your careful consideration of this issue.

Sincerely,

Mark Watt

Dear Council Members:
I am writing in opposition to the change in the weed abatement bill. If weeds or "unsightly vegetation" are in a person's yard, they should be removed as soon as possible, not allowed to grow to a height of 12".
I assume that the word "weeds" refers to any unsightly vegetation that most would agree should not grow in city yards. I hope it does not refer to native vegetation such as little bluestem, grama grasses and other native species.

On May 12th, the City Council will be considering:

An ordinance amending Chapter 8.46 of the Lincoln Municipal Code relating to Weed Abatement by amending Sections 8.46.010 and 8.46.020 to raise the height of weeds or worthless vegetation that must be cut from six inches to twelve inches above the ground.

The Witherbee Board of Directors has consulted WNA members and other community leaders about this issue, and subsequently voted to oppose this change to the weed abatement ordinance.

The WNA Board asks all members to contact City Council members to voice opposition to this change prior to their May 12th meeting.

City Council e-mail addresses may be found at:

http://www.lincoln.ne.gov/city/council/members.htm

Following are some reasons why LMC 8.46 relating to Weed Abatement should NOT be amended:

1. Germination and growth of worthless vegetation would be greater and for longer periods, therefore causing possible subsequent infestations of such growth to occur on adjacent properties.

1. This could create environments whereby vermin; snakes, rodents, etc., would live and breed.

1. The appearance of unkempt properties, whether owner-occupied and/or rental, would increase and would negatively effect adjacent maintained properties and neighborhoods.

1. Neighborhood Associations are currently working with Michael Snodgrass and Shawn Ryba of NeighborWorks, Jon Carlson of the Mayor's staff, and have met with City Councilman Doug Emery to discuss greater enforcement of Building and Safety codes, especially pertaining to rental properties. Changing LMC 8.46 would send a "mixed message."

1. This proposed ordinance change does more harm than good. It encourages those who don't maintain their property to do so and punishes those who do by having them go to the extra work and expense of keeping worthless vegetation from invading their property.

Dear City Council members,

As residents of the Near South, we urge you NOT to approve the proposed change in the city weed ordinance. Doubling the height limits will create even bigger problems for our core neighborhoods at a time when the city claims to be making a major commitment to these established areas.

Imagine if landlords don't need to mow until the vegetation on their property -- "lawn" is often too kind a term - is a foot tall. This change would definitely have major negative consequences. A drive through our neighborhood today reveals plenty of yards that look shabby and weedy at far less than 12 inches. For those of us who work hard to maintain our property and yards, this latest proposal is extremely discouraging.

It seems it would be better to increase the fines for those who don't mow their lawns when they are 6 inches tall than to reward them by doubling the height before anything is done.

Thank you for your consideration,

Dear City Council Members:

We oppose the proposed change in the city ordinance that would allow weeds to grow to 12", instead of 6", before the city becomes involved. We propose finding ways to handle the process of dealing with violators more efficiently or increasing fines. As residents of the Near South Neighborhood, we are concerned that this allowance will make existing problem properties even worse.

To the City Council
I am writing concerning the proposed ordinance before the council that would allow the acceptable weed height to be increased from 6 to 12 inches. I believe that this ordinance would not only have a significant negative impact on property values but also degrade the quality of life in Lincoln neighborhoods.

I am a resident of the Near South neighborhood. Across the street is a large house which has stood empty for nearly a year, with a hand-painted "for sale" sign in the window. The house might as well be abandoned. It's an eyesore as it is; however, the grass at least does not get completely out of control. Someone occasionally comes and mows - typically when the grass is around 6" high.

I can only imagine what this house's yard would look like if the weed height were increased. The city is concerned enough about areas such as the Near South to offer revitalization grants and other such programs; increasing fines or altering the process around weed control would be a wiser option than legislating more neglect.

Dear Lincoln City Council,

I would like to voice my concern about the possibility of changing the acceptable weed height within the city limits from 6 inches to 12 inches.

I live in the Near South neighborhood, where there are a high number of people renting from landlords. Many of those landlords do the minimum amount of upkeep required to their properties in order to maximize their profits.

Changing this ordinance means that those properties certainly will be mowed even less than they are now, and further add to the area looking dumpier and decrease the property values of those around them. We live next to two apartment complexes where upkeep is at the minimum.

I would encourage you to vote to retain the current limit to 6 inches.

Thank you for considering my opinion in your deliberations,

Please leave the weed ordinance at 6 inches. I live at the corner of 17th and C Streets and it is obvious to me that the 6 inch rule is not being enforced now - see apartment complex at 16th and C as an example (it is well over 12 inches now). The City apparently (and understandably because of the need for undeniable evidence) waits until it is well over 6 inches before anything is done about it or maybe because of the lag time between serving notice and getting the grass cut. To change the ruling would only exacerbate that problem.
Thank you,
David Hoesch
