Dear City of Lincoln:

Dear Lincoln City Leader:

I am contacting you to let you know I strongly disagree with Mayor Chris Beutler's assessment that the approval of the Haymarket Arena Bond measure was people 'expressing trust in government,' as reported in the Lincoln Journal Star.

Lincolnites, like the majority of Americans, have lost trust in their government. An April 2010 Pew Research poll demonstrates that 80% of Americans have little to no trust in their government. And Lincoln taxpayers have few reasons to blindly trust this Administration.

Under Mayor Chris Beutler's fiscal leadership taxpayers have seen why we do no trust City Leadership:

Beutler supported new taxes on phone lines, making Lincoln one of the highest taxed cities in the country for phone service.

Beutler misrepresented the costs of new fire department policies to the City Council, leading to hundreds of thousands of dollars in extra costs.

"Significant accounting lapses" have been found in the Antelope Valley Project by Auditor Mike Foley, a city-lead project whose costs continue to grow by the millions.

Beutler, under pressure from public employee union leaders, backed away from a pledge to Lincoln taxpayer to lower the City's % retirement match to 1-to-1.

Lincolnites passed the proposed arena because they believed it can be an engine for economic growth, not because of a 'trust' our government leaders know best.
Now that the Arena has passed, regardless of what side people were on, I believe we have great responsibility to hold you, our elected leaders, accountable to avoid reckless spending and 'significant accounting lapses' in this new endeavor.

We hope this project will bring economic growth to our city, but please do not view this vote for the arena as a vote of confidence in city leadership.

Sincerely,

MAYOR PRESENTS APRIL AWARD OF EXCELLENCE

Mayor Chris Beutler today presented the Mayor’s Award of Excellence for April to Jamie Phillips, Administrative Secretary for Finance Director Don Herz. The monthly award recognizes City employees who consistently provide exemplary service and work that demonstrates personal commitment to the City. The award was presented at the beginning of today’s City Council meeting.

Phillips has worked for the City since 2003. Herz, City Budget Officer Steve Hubka and the Mayor’s Chief of Staff, Rick Hoppe, nominated her in the categories of customer relations and productivity for her work on a major PowerPoint presentation.

With the 2008-2009 budget year, the Mayor’s Office began a transition to outcome-based budgeting. City departments and interested citizens ranked City programs in priority order. The “Taking Charge” performance measurement document was then developed. Indicators were developed and each department prepared PowerPoint slides to show how they were performing. These slides were reviewed at the Mayor’s “City Stat” meetings, where the City Council and community members reviewed the information.

The slides were needed for a series of four meetings scheduled within an eight-day period. Phillips’ task was to gather all 120 slides departments had developed. She made sure they were formatted and labeled correctly and that there was consistency in the presentation. Phillips also made many calls and e-mails to follow up on the status of the slides. She requested additional information to update and revise them, added pictures and graphics, and made many last-minute changes. The project was completed within two to three weeks. In addition to working her regular hours during this busy time, Phillips also worked on the project at home on her own time.

When the first set of City Stat meetings were completed, Phillips was again in charge of modifying the slides and having them ready for meetings in January. The nominators said Phillips is extremely organized and took charge of organizing the presentation in a clear and accurate manner. For the last few years, Phillips also has prepared all the PowerPoint slides for the Mayor’s Budget Presentations. This also requires a great deal of patience as the Mayor and his staff are known to request many last-minute changes. Hubka says Jamie performs all of her regular and extra job duties with a great degree of patience and friendliness.

The other categories in which employees can be nominated are loss prevention, safety and valor. Consideration also may be given to nominations that demonstrate self-initiated accomplishments or those completed outside of the nominee’s job description.

All City employees are eligible for the Mayor’s Award of Excellence except for elected and appointed officials. Individuals or teams can be nominated by supervisors, peers, subordinates and the general public. Nomination forms are available at lincoln.nc.gov (keyword: personnel) or from department heads, employee bulletin boards or the Personnel Department, which oversees the awards program. All nominations are reviewed by the Mayor’s Award of Excellence Committee, which includes a representative with each union and a non-union representative appointed by the Mayor. Award winners receive a $100 U.S. savings bond, a day off with pay and a plaque.

Dear City Leaders:

Yesterday, during the meeting of the Los Angeles City Council, I introduced a resolution to begin the process of terminating all City business with any business entity located in Arizona—essentially boycotting the state. I am writing to ask that you and your city do the same.

The immigration law recently adopted in Arizona is bad public policy. The law will not only lead to blatant racial profiling and civil rights violations, it will also negatively impact crime fighting.

Former Los Angeles Police Chief Daryl Gates, who just passed away last week, was a very controversial figure. But he issued Special Order 40, which prevents LAPD officers from checking people’s immigration status. He believed—as many law enforcement experts do—that requiring people to prove their legal status is actually detrimental to public safety, because crimes go unreported and key witnesses feel intimidated.

The law in Arizona is troubling for many reasons, which is why I believe that a boycott of the state is necessary. Furthermore, the boycott will also send a message to other states that may be considering similar laws that such blatant attacks on civil rights will not be tolerated. We hope that Arizona will be the last state to pass this type of law, not just the first.

So, please stand with us and tell Arizona that it is not okay to enact racist laws. America is a nation of immigrants and we are a nation of tolerance. But, one thing we will not tolerate is hate. I urge you to pass a similar resolution in your city.

Sincerely,

JANICE HAHN

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT

DEPARTMENT/DIVISION: Health/Animal Control Division

DATE: 4/23/2010

NEED
The Department purchased 9 tablets (Gateway) for Animal Control Officers to use in the field in 2006. Unfortunately, this model has experienced significant hardware issues throughout the four years. After Gateway company folded, parts and repairs are not available. At the current time, only 2 of the original tablets work at all. This is impacting the ability of the officers to work efficiently and effectively in the field. The Department proposes to replace the tablets in FY 2010, using savings accrued since the Assistant Health Director has temporarily assumed the Division Manager duties. From January 1st through April 30, we will have saved close to $23,500. I anticipate at least another $10,000 in savings before the end of the fiscal year. The Department is requesting to replace 6 of the tablets at this time using these savings. The tablets will also serve as the Animal Control Officers workstation in the office as well as in the field. The total estimated cost is $19,249.65

ANTELOPE VALLEY PARKWAY NOW OPEN
BETWEEN “P” AND VINE STREETS

A new half-mile section of Antelope Valley Parkway between “P” and Vine streets is now open to traffic. The project extends Antelope Valley Parkway from Vine Street just east of the Beadle Center south to the intersection of 19th and “P” streets.

The project also included the construction of major stormwater lines and water mains as well as traffic signals at “Q” Street. The construction of sanitary sewer and water mains was coordinated with the Assurance redevelopment project on the northeast corner of 19th and “Q” streets.

This project helps meet the Antelope Valley Project’s transportation objective to improve traffic circulation in the area. When completed, Antelope Valley Parkway will extend south to “K” Street. Construction on that segment will begin in spring 2011 after the current “K” Street rehabilitation project between 17th and 22nd streets is completed.

Major Antelope Valley projects remaining to be constructed include the following:
• South Street bridge reconstruction near 37th Street is scheduled to begin this fall.
• The final construction phase of Union Plaza is scheduled to begin late this summer.

Antelope Valley is a flood control, traffic improvement and community revitalization project in the core of the City. More information on the Antelope Valley Project is available at lincoln.ne.gov (keyword: antelope).

MAYOR SAYS NATIONAL RANKINGS HELP ATTRACT AND RETAIN BUSINESSES AND FAMILIES

In the wake of the positive vote on the Lincoln Haymarket Arena, Mayor Chris Beutler today said the rest of the nation is already taking notice of the great business climate and quality of life in Lincoln. The Mayor handed out lists of high rankings by national organizations and cited three recent examples:

- Lincoln ranked fifth in the Forbes list of Best Places for Business and Careers.
- Forbes also ranked Lincoln as the ninth most livable city.
- Relocate America named Lincoln to its Top 100 Places to live list. The organization offers relocating consumers a directory of over 6,000 national community profiles.

“These national rankings underscore that what I’ve been saying for quite some time now – that Lincoln is uniquely positioned to become a truly world-class City,” Mayor Beutler said. “One of the keys is investment in the City core – the Antelope Valley Project, Innovation Campus, our downtown, and now the West Haymarket.”

The Mayor made the remarks at a news conference at Turbine Flats, a center for small and start-up businesses at 2124 "Y" Street. One of its founders, Matthew Wegener, is on the leadership council of the Young Professionals Group, a supporter of the arena project. The Mayor noted a number of the rankings relate to younger workers, entrepreneurship and small businesses. And he said economic development professionals believe these kinds of national rankings do have an impact on attracting and retaining business and families.

“They do attract attention – attention that may cause someone to take a second look at our City especially in uncertain economic times,” he said. “If they look a little deeper, they’ll find out about our excellent education system. They’ll learn that single-family building permits were up 40 percent in the first quarter of this year compared to last year – a great indicator that our economy is rebounding. The rankings also help give our City an identity beyond Husker football. And they confirm to City leaders and residents that we are on the right track.”

CONGRESS
Senate continues to debate financial services reform. Congress went yet another week without major movement on big-ticket items, as much of the focus shifted to the oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico and attempted car-bombing in New York City. However, as the November elections get closer, the partisan tensions continue to escalate.

Comprehensive reform of the financial sector continues to go slowly in the Senate, as Members spend hours debating amendments while waiting for some kind of breakthrough that would allow for a final vote on the measure. While not blocking consideration of the bill, Republicans are essentially filibustering the bill by offering dozens of amendments while leaders work behind the scenes on a compromise. Thus far, there have not been sufficient changes made to the measure to gain GOP votes.

Meanwhile, House leaders waited for Senate movement on immigration reform and climate change. While waiting, the House continues to move smaller “jobs” bills. This week they approved legislation (HR 5019) that would authorize a $6 billion program to provide rebates for energy efficient home improvements. Known as HomeStar, or “cash for caulkers,” the program would be administered in a similar fashion to the “cash for clunkers” program of 2009 that provided rebates for consumers that trade in their older cars for more fuel efficient models.

House Democrats were angered by Republican opposition this week to legislation (HR 1722) that would promote telecommuting by federal employees. The measure was considered on the floor under suspension of the rules, an expedited procedure that limits debate on non-controversial bills but also requires a two-thirds majority for passage. Democratic leaders had believed there were no problems with the bill, but a majority of Republicans voted against it, citing a cost of $30 million over five years, and it failed to receive a two-thirds majority.

After the vote, a Democratic leadership aide indicated that the last-minute change of heart by the GOP on the bill would “cast a shadow on our working relationship.”

Next week, the Senate continues to consider financial reform, while the House takes up legislation to reauthorize programs at federal science and research agencies such as the National Institute of Standards and Technology and the National Science Foundation.

HUMAN RESOURCES
House and Senate panels discuss overturning Supreme Court age discrimination decision.

The House Subcommittee on Health, Employment, Labor and Pensions of the House Education and Labor Committee and the Senate Committee on Health, Education, Labor and Pensions both held hearings this week on legislation (HR 3721/S 1756) that would overturn a 2009 Supreme Court decision that narrowed the scope of the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (PL 90-202).

In that decision, Gross v. FLB Financial Services Inc., the Court ruled (5-4) that a plaintiff seeking relief from age discrimination must prove that age was the decisive factor in being denied or fired from a job. Until that decision, the courts had generally used a broader interpretation of the age discrimination statute that made it easier for plaintiffs to prove employment-related age discrimination.
Both HR 3721 and S 1756 would amend the Age Discrimination in Employment Act to overturn the Supreme Court’s so-called “but for” test. Both bills would amend the law to make it clear that plaintiffs could be awarded damages for employment-related age discrimination even if other factors were involved in discriminating against the plaintiff.

In general, testimony at both hearings was in favor of the bills, arguing that the Gross decision makes it harder for individuals to prove discrimination and creates uncertainty for lower courts hearing age discrimination suits. Those testifying at both hearings included Jack Gross, dubbed by many as this year’s Lily Ledbetter. Only Eric Dreiband, a former General Counsel at the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, testified against the bills, arguing that they are too vague in terms of what law they amend and that the Gross decision actually helps rather than harms age discrimination plaintiffs. However, Committee members did not appear receptive to his arguments, with Senate Committee Chairman Tom Harkin (D-IA) responding that he will clarify his bill if necessary and that he intends to move forward.

S 1756 has 23 cosponsors and HR 3721 has 32 cosponsors, all Democrats. However, when asked if he would support the bill, Senate Committee Ranking Member Michael Enzi (R-WY) quipped, “Being 65, you never know.”

Comment or Question:
I voted against the arena due to the fact that we are about 10 years too late and also that we are building an arena at a greater cost that Omaha and it will be smaller. It seems to me that we have our head in the clouds and pushed to get this passed without having much of an alternative. That said, I hope the arena is successful but I will request from each of you that processes be put in place that keep costs in check on this project. We have all seen what has happened with the Antelope Valley project. Let’s not let this happen with the arena. Everyone can make excuses as to why the Antelope Valley Project costs have ballooned but it should never have happened. Lets build the arena in the right way.
This May 13th 2010 + forward we can do

"First Do No Harm" paper sign for our hospitals can be put up for ten cents so we can send the bioethisists away immediately. This will save a lot of lives. A city councilman, sheriff or other city official can have "First Do No Harm" hospitals + nursing homes immediately. Also we can have an ordinance + 2nd ordinance.

ORDINANCE

The city of Lincoln seizes our hospitals and to have "First Do No Harm" hospitals so the bioethisists are sent away. Exterminations of our people ends.

2nd ORDINANCE

The city of Lincoln seizes our hospitals to have "First Do No Harm" hospitals and we pay for the hospitals with 1% increase of property tax. We don’t itemize so we save a lot of money. We pay for salaries, ambulance, film for machines and medical sundries. Property tax increase lets citizens pay $1000 per year! We liberate our Lincoln citizens from the national health plan and throw away all the health insurance plans! We protect our citizens from being taken to prison for not paying for the national insurance plan. We not ever will have a health plan that promotes genocide.

RE: Liquor License for West Nine and Learning Center at Firethorn, LLC

Dear Mr. Seybert:

Enclosed is an amendment to the Liquor License Application filed on behalf of the West Nine & Learning Center at Firethorn, LLC. The only change reflected is the answer to Question No. 1 on the applicant information page which asks if the party to the application or their spouse has ever been convicted or pled guilty to any charge. It was brought to our attention through a letter from the Office of the Sheriff of Lancaster County dated May 3, 2010, that James B. White and Tiffany A. White had minor traffic violations which were not included in the application. We apologize for the omission, and it was certainly unintentional on the part of my client. However, given that these were simply minor traffic violations, and as noted in the May 3rd letter from the Sheriff of Lancaster County, none of these citations should disqualify the West Nine & Learning Center at Firethorn, LLC from obtaining a Class I liquor license. Should you have any questions about this amendment please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Derek C. Zimmerman

Dear City of Lincoln:

Dear Lincoln City Leader:

I am contacting you to let you know I strongly disagree with Mayor Chris Beutler's assessment that the approval of the Haymarket Arena Bond measure was people 'expressing trust in government,' as reported in the Lincoln Journal Star.

Lincolmites, like the majority of Americans, have lost trust in their government. An April 2010 Pew Research poll demonstrates that 80% of Americans have little to no trust in their government. And Lincoln taxpayers have few reasons to blindly trust this Administration.

Under Mayor Chris Beutler's fiscal leadership taxpayers have seen why we do no trust City Leadership:

Beutler supported new taxes on phone lines, making Lincoln one of the highest taxed cities in the country for phone service.

Beutler misrepresented the costs of new fire department policies to the City Council, leading to hundreds of thousands of dollars in extra costs.

"Significant accounting lapses" have been found in the Antelope Valley Project by Auditor Mike Foley, a city-lead project whose costs continue to grow by the millions.

Beutler, under pressure from public employee union leaders, backed away from a pledge to Lincoln taxpayer to lower the City's retirement match to 1-to-1.

Lincolmites passed the proposed arena because they believed it can be an engine for economic growth, not because of a 'trust' our government leaders know best.

Now that the Arena has passed, regardless of what side people were on, I believe we have great responsibility to hold you, our elected leaders, accountable to avoid reckless spending and 'significant accounting lapses' in this new endeavor.

We hope this project will bring economic growth to our city, but please do not view this vote for the arena as a vote of confidence in city leadership.

Sincerely,

Marilyn Koehn

Joan,

The people behind the event on June 12 at the Clocktower Mall, the Rock the Clock, have decided to pull the plug. They will not fund said event. So I will respectively ask you to remove the application I submitted for the event on behalf of Irie Inc, DBA Doc's Place.

I am sorry for any inconvenience this caused you. I know you and the rest of the people involved work very hard to get me any permits I have needed in the past.
