MAYOR CALLS FOR MINUTE OF SILENCE ON MEMORIAL DAY

Mayor Chris Beutler today called on the residents of Lincoln to honor veterans and the armed forces with one minute of silence at 3 p.m. on Memorial Day, Monday, May 31. The National Moment of Remembrance was established by Congress and is observed nationally.

"Taking a minute from our holiday activities to remember those who died in service to our country is a patriotic act of national unity," said Mayor Beutler. "It's a simple tribute all of us can do with our family and friends to honor these heroes who gave their lives for our freedoms. Men and women continue to put their lives on the line around the globe, and we also need to remember the sacrifices being made for our nation every day by those in the military and their families. We honor those sacrifices by doing what we can to support our military, our fellow citizens and our community."

Mayor Beutler served in the U.S. Army, mostly in Thailand, from 1969 to 1971, rising to the rank of First Lieutenant.

MAYOR INVITES PUBLIC TO THIRD WATERFEST AT HOLMES LAKE

Mayor Chris Beutler invites families to the City’s third Waterfest, a fun and free event from 5 to 8 p.m. Saturday, June 12 at Holmes Lake Park. Waterfest activities will include fishing, canoeing and other hands-on activities. The event will feature a raptor release, a performance by PANgea, educational exhibits, free refreshments and prizes (while they last).

In 2005, a $5.6 million renovation of Holmes Lake and the surrounding park was completed. The removal of sediment extended the recreational life span of the lake by more than 100 years.

“One of the goals of Waterfest is to share information on how we can prevent pollutants from getting back into Holmes Lake and our other water resources,” said Mayor Beutler. “I encourage the public to attend the event to have a good time and also to learn about the benefits of installing rain gardens and rain barrels and the importance of picking up pet waste, fixing auto oil leaks and using low phosphorous fertilizer.”

The Lincoln Parks and Recreation Department manages Holmes Lake and the surrounding park. The Watershed Management Division of the Public Works and Utilities Department works to reduce the threat of water through public education, implementing stream bank stabilization projects and promoting water quality improvement efforts.

The City’s partners in Waterfest include the Lower Platte South Natural Resources District, the Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality and the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission. Other sponsors are Olsson Associates, Lincoln Parks Foundation, Pepsi-Cola of Lincoln, JEO Consulting Group, Schemmer Associates, Culligan of Lincoln, Nebraska Concrete and Aggregates Association, Comfort Chiropractic and the American Red Cross.

More information about Waterfest is available on the City website, lincoln.ne.gov (keyword: waterfest).

PUBLIC INVITED TO LEARN ABOUT COMPLETE STREETS CONCEPTS

Citizens are invited to learn about Complete Streets concepts at a public meeting beginning at 2:30 p.m., Tuesday, June 8 in the City Council Chambers, County-City Building, 555 South 10th Street.

Complete Streets programs make sure that streets and roads work for drivers, transit users, pedestrians, and bicyclists, as well as for older people, children, and people with disabilities. A core philosophy of the Complete Streets program is that pedestrians, bicyclists, motorists and transit riders of all ages and abilities should be able to safely travel along and across any street.

An overview presentation by Michael Moule, P.E., P.T.O.E. will provide background on the benefits of Complete Streets, dispel myths, explain how existing streets can easily be retrofitted into Complete Streets, and detail how a Complete Streets policy can even save money.

A general discussion with questions and answers will follow the presentation. Lincoln-Lancaster County Planning staff will also be available.

Free parking vouchers will be given to attendees who park in the public parking garage north of the County-City Building.

For more information, contact David Cary, Lincoln-Lancaster County Planning Department, at 441-7491. Additional information is available on the City web site at lincoln.ne.gov.

LIBERTY TREE DEDICATION SET FOR JUNE 8

Mayor Chris Beutler invites the public to the dedication of Lincoln’s Liberty Tree Memorial at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 8 in Antelope Park near the Liberty Bell Pavilion west of the Auld Recreation Center. Lincoln recently received a ceremonial 15-foot disease-resistant American Liberty Elm made possible through a grant by the Elm Research Institute (ERI). The memorial includes a bronze plaque telling the story of the Liberty Tree.

ERI, a non-profit organization based in New Hampshire, is the sponsor and promoter of the Liberty Tree Memorials project. It’s based on Boston’s famous Liberty Tree planted in 1646. By the time of the Revolution, the tree was 100 feet tall and served as a rallying location for protests against British rule. In an act of revenge, the British troops cut down the Liberty Tree in August 1775. At the time, General Lafayette said, “The world should never forget the spot where once stood the Liberty Tree, so famous in your annals.”

Lincoln is one of 408 Liberty Tree Memorial sites. To qualify for a memorial, a city must establish it in a prominent location and hold a public event that includes the reading of Thomas Paine’s poem “Liberty Tree.”

ERI was founded in 1967 with the purpose of saving the American elm from extinction. ERI sponsored genetic research that resulted in the 1984 introduction of the American Liberty Elm, a purebred descendant of disease-resistant American elms. More than 300,000 American Liberty Elms have been planted at prominent locations throughout the country including the U.S. Capitol Building and the Independence Hall and Liberty Bell Center in Philadelphia.

MAYOR ANNOUNCES LAUNCH OF COMPREHENSIVE PLAN UPDATE

Mayor Chris Beutler today announced the beginning of an intensive process to consider what our community will be like in the year 2040. The City-County Planning Department is leading a major update to the City-County Comprehensive Plan and Long Range Transportation Plan called “LPlan 2040.”

The plan will reflect the City and County’s common vision of the future. It will address how the community will grow, and where and how citizens will live, work and travel in a way that is sustainable for future generations.

“During the past few months, we have taken a hard look at the near term priorities for our community which will help us work through a very challenging budget for next year,” said Mayor Beutler. “But now is also a critical time to step back and deliberate on big decisions for the longer term, for both Lincoln and Lancaster County.” The Mayor also announced the formation of an advisory committee comprised of the nine members of the Lincoln-Lancaster County Planning Commission and 11 other citizens to help guide the process. (see attached list). The group will work over the next year to assist in drafting a new Comprehensive Plan that will be released next summer.

The Mayor’s announcement marks the beginning of an extensive public process to get input on the City and County’s future plans that will last up to 18 months. The Planning Department has already begun some public outreach through a survey of the community’s opinion on various planning issues. More input is sought through an on-line version of the survey which will be posted through June on the City-County website at lincoln.ne.gov.

There are many other ways for the community to get involved, including:

• Attend a public meeting on Complete Streets from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 8 in Council Chambers, County-City Building, 555 S. 10th St. Discussion will include ways to plan streets so they are safer, more livable and welcoming to everyone.
• Join a public workshop in the same location from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday, July 13 to discuss “Living and Working in 2040.”
• Participate in other public meetings and workshops throughout the next year as LPlan 2040 is developed.

CONGRESS
Congress fails to gain final approval of a jobs bill and supplemental appropriations prior to Memorial Day break. After several days of negotiating, House and Senate leaders failed to come to an agreement on two high profile pieces of legislation that Democrats had hoped to clear prior to a week-long Memorial Day recess slated to begin today.

Jobs/Tax Bill
A few weeks ago, legislation (HR 4213) that would have extended a series of popular tax credits appeared to be on its way to approval when congressional leaders decided to use the measure as a vehicle for provisions they hope would address high unemployment rates. Extension of the popular Build America Bonds and Recovery Zone Bond programs was added, as well as $1 billion for a summer youth jobs program in 2010. But it was an extension of unemployment benefits and an expensive fix for declining Medicare reimbursement rates for physicians that has caused heartburn for Republicans and moderate Democrats. Although those two provisions were pared back late this week in an effort to secure votes, neither the House nor Senate leaders were assured on Thursday that the votes were there for passage. However, the House approved the measure today, while the Senate will take up the bill after the recess. See May 28 Washington Report for additional details.

Supplemental Appropriations
The Senate approved its version of a FY 2010 supplemental appropriations bill for overseas military operations and disaster assistance, but proposals in the House to expand the measure prevented its final approval. The Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee is proposing the addition of $23 billion to states for the hiring and rehiring of teachers, $1.18 billion for COPS Hiring grants, and $500 million for SAFER firefighter hiring grants. These additions again ran afoul of Republicans and moderate Democrats, and committee consideration of the measure was postponed until after the recess. Prospects for the additional hiring funding are not bright, as sponsors of teacher hiring funds in the Senate admitted this week that they could not secure the necessary votes for passage in that chamber.

Not included in the Senate supplemental appropriations bill was language that would mandate that state and local governments enter into collective bargaining with public safety employees. Senate Majority Leader Harry Reid (D-NV) was reportedly considering offering the provision as an amendment, but backed off in order to speed consideration of the spending measure.

Both the House and Senate are expected to be back in session on Tuesday, June 8.

WATER RESOURCES
House panel approves compromise on drinking water bill. The House Energy and Commerce Committee approved legislation (HR 5320) that would reauthorize the Drinking Water State Revolving Loan Fund (SRF) at the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). The Committee’s nearly unanimous approval of the bill came after a compromise was reached that reduces its price tag and narrows language to require the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to begin a long-stalled program of testing for endocrine disruptors in drinking water.

Due to the Congressional recess, the next Washington Report will be sent on Friday, June 11
The drinking water SRF was created in 1996 and provides formula funds to states, which in turn make low-interest loans to public entities for drinking water infrastructure projects. The program received $1.387 billion in FY 2010 and the 2009 stimulus bill provided an additional $2 billion for the program, on top of an $829 million FY 2009 appropriation.

As approved by the Committee, the bill would reauthorize the drinking water SRF at $1.4 billion in FY 2011, $1.6 billion in FY 2012 and $1.8 billion in FY 2013. The bill as approved by the subcommittee last week would have authorized $13 billion over five years for the program.

The endocrine disruptor language would still require EPA to begin a testing program and complete testing of 100 substances over the next four years. However, the bill would set strict parameters for the scientific evidence EPA could draw on when determining whether to test a substance.

The bill now goes to the House floor with the wind behind its sails though the House leadership has not set a date for its consideration.

In a related item, the Senate Environment and Public Works Committee canceled a hearing on reauthorization of the Water Resources Development Act (WRDA) this week, citing a busy Senate floor schedule. The Committee had issued a call for projects several weeks ago, and appeared ready to proceed. Given the difficulty of enacting WRDA bills and the general “anti-pork” and anti-spending sentiments prevailing on Capitol Hill, it appears that WRDA 2010 may join the increasingly crowded ranks of unsuccessful bills.

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Senate approves federal telecommuting measure. By voice vote, the Senate approved legislation (S 707) designed to make it easier for federal employees to telecommute.

As passed by the Senate, the bill would authorize the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) and each federal agency to develop telework policies. Each federal agency would also have to:

- Establish a policy governing which employees are eligible for telework,
- Notify employees that they are eligible for telework,
- Set up a telework training program for managers and employees and
- Designate a Telework Managing Director to manage the agency’s telework program.

The bill also directs OPM to develop and maintain a website devoted to telework. Supporters of the bill cite the recent winter storms that paralyzed Washington and the potential for congestion relief and air quality improvements in communities with large numbers of federal employees.

TRANSPORTATION

Dodd introduces public transit operating assistance bill. Senate Banking Committee Chairman Chris Dodd (D-CT) this week introduced the “Public Transportation Preservation Act” (S 3412), which would authorize $2 billion in emergency financial support to help large public transportation agencies stave off service reductions and employee layoffs, amid major budget declines.

The $2 billion would be distributed through existing transit funding formulas for urban and non-urban areas, with a small amount set aside for administration and oversight. These funds could be used by transit agencies to cover operating expenses and, in some limited cases, capital projects, such as track work or bus purchases. Current federal law bars federal funds from being spent on operating costs in areas with populations greater than 200,000, though a supplemental appropriations bill last year provided a temporary reprieve from this ban.

Several members of the Senate’s Democratic leadership are listed as co-sponsors of the bill but no Republicans. The path to enactment is unclear at this point, due to a crowded Senate schedule and a pattern of Republican reluctance to approve such spending. The bill’s sponsors have said they are looking at all options available to move S 3412, including attaching the measure to future “must-pass” legislation. Reports that Dodd would offer the bill as an amendment to the supplemental appropriations bill this week did not materialize.

The authorization would run through September 30, 2011, and funding recipients would have until July of 2012 to obligate the funds.

In a related item, included in the Jobs/Tax Bill (HR 4213) being considered in the House (see related story above), is the resolution of a dispute over how nearly $1 billion in highway funding should be distributed to states.

The multiple, short-term extensions of current surface transportation policy (SAFETEA-LU) have affected the manner of distribution of funds from two programs, the Projects of National and Regional Significance program and the National Corridor Infrastructure Improvement program. Originally earmarked for specific projects in the 2005 SAFETEA-LU law, these two programs gave 58 percent of the $932 million to just four states (California, Illinois, Louisiana, and Washington) and excluded 21 others.

Subsequently, legislation to distribute funds from the program in FY 2010 using more equitable traditional highway formulas was approved by the House and is pending in the Senate. However, a coalition of Senators from those states whose funds would be reduced by the new formula forced a compromise that would provide an additional $521 million to compensate the 29 states affected by the changes.

EARMARKS

Obama sends proposal to Congress regarding earmarks. The White House this week proposed legislation that would give the President more authority over congressional spending decisions.

The proposal would provide the President with “enhanced rescission authority,” providing him or her with 45 working days after a bill is enacted to send Congress a notice of proposed funding cuts or rescissions. The procedure would apply to discretionary spending and some funding authorized outside the appropriations process but would not affect entitlement programs such as Medicare and Social Security. Congress would then have 25 working days to vote on the entire package of cuts without amendment.

Congress approved similar legislation in 1996, known as the line item veto, but the Supreme Court ruled it unconstitutional in 1998.

The proposal has the support of the “Blue Dog Coalition,” a group of conservative House Democrats, but the announcement in general was met on Capitol Hill with little fanfare, as there are many Democrats and Republicans who are wary of giving up their Constitutionally-designated “power of the purse.”

Currently, congressional earmarks consist of less than one half of one percent of the $3 trillion annual federal budget.

LINCOLN & LANCASTER COUNTY ENVIRONMENTAL LEADERSHIP AWARDS

The Lincoln-Lancaster County Environmental Leadership Awards will be held on Thursday, June 3, at the Nebraska Champions Club. The ceremony will recognize businesses, organizations and individuals who have demonstrated environmental stewardship and dedication to sustainable practices that improve our air, land, and water quality while protecting public health.

The ceremony is designed to bring public attention to those who strive to protect and enhance the beauty and livability of our community. The award presentations are intended to inspire others to follow the models and examples set by these 2010 Environmental Leadership Award recipients. Award winners this year include:

- Business and Industry – Sadoff Iron and Metal Company and Servant Cab Company, LLC

  Sadoff Iron and Metal Company, is a metal processing facility that has been operating in Lincoln since the fall of 1999 in the Air Park Industrial Area. They worked closely with the neighborhood to assure a safe and attractive scrap yard. Sadoff has exemplified environmental and community stewardship by partnering with the Arnold Heights Neighborhood Association on their annual cleanups, provided a premium price to the Arnold Elementary School for their aluminum cans, and donated money to Parks and Recreation for the Eagle’s View Park.

  Servant Cab Company purchased 13 hybrid cars to replace their older, less efficient fleet vehicles. Saving 1,220 gallons of fuel per year, reducing their greenhouse gas emission totals by 403 tons per year and saving the business $90,000 per year in gas. Demonstrating that environmentally friendly practices result in smart business decisions.
• Education – Harry A. Heafer and Healthy Families Play Outside

Harry A. Heafer is a long-time environmental educator who directed the Keep Lincoln & Lancaster County Beautiful program for nearly 15 years, providing public education and litter cleanup coordination. He initiated the Storm Water Awareness Program, piloted a cigarette butt litter prevention effort in downtown Lincoln, and was the force behind the Trash Can Band, a group of young people who marched for 14 years in the Star City Holiday Parade, spreading a litter-free message.

The Healthy Families Play Outside network is comprised of individuals committed to helping people of all ages foster a life-long relationship to nature. They have brought in national speakers, Richard Louv and Robin Moore, created the Lincoln Safari, and implemented nature nights and clubs for children throughout the area.

• Non-Profit Organization – Nebraska State Education Association, NSEA

In 2009, NSEA completed an 18-month renovation of their 1962 headquarters building located directly west of the State Capital. The NSEA, made up of 27,000 Nebraska educators, administrators, and school staff raised member dues by $20 per member, per year to renovate the building. This project reflects a commitment by the NSEA to refurbish a building with state-of-the-art, environmentally friendly materials and practices. In the end, the architectural uniqueness was preserved while bringing a 1960’s-era building up to 2010 environmental standards.

• Government – UNL Whittier Junior High School Renovations

The University of Nebraska–Lincoln, has led recent renovations of Lincoln’s historic Whittier Junior High School. The decision by UNL administration and faculty to utilize the existing Whittier building grew out of a twofold need for additional research space and affordable, high quality child care services for faculty, staff and the community. The Whittier project is a wonderful example of adaptive reuse and demonstrates how to incorporate sustainable practices through construction design, policy and planning. UNL was able to incorporate and embrace the strategies outlined by the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design program, or LEED. These LEED strategies not only benefit the university as a research and educational institution, but they also have positive implications for improving the quality of life for university families, building occupants, and the broader community.

- Agriculture – Community C.R.O.P.S.

  Through a network of community gardens, urban farms, and hands-on learning activities, Community CROPS has a mission of helping people work together to live sustainability through the cultivation and growing of healthy food. C.R.O.P.S. stands for “Combining Resources, Opportunities, and People for Sustainability.” Beyond the gardens, CROPS has been instrumental in nurturing and facilitating several community-based workshops and classes that include assistance with composting, bee-keeping, rain gardens and growing vegetables organically.

- Individual Citizen – Jeanne Pashalek

  Jeanne strives to achieve a self-sustaining lifestyle with limited impact on the environment. She uses garden beds, orchards, beehives, and livestock to help achieve this life mission. Jeanne also utilizes her environmentally progressive practices in her professional life as a Deputy Chief with Lincoln Fire & Rescue. She was instrumental in getting all the fire stations to begin recycling. Jeanne exemplifies that as individuals the choices we make in our homes, our work, the food we eat, and what we buy and throw away all influence our footprint and can help ensure a sustainable environment for future generations.

  This year’s ceremony will include a keynote address by Karl Brooks, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Region 7 Administrator selected by President Obama in February. Dr. Brooks most recently was a professor of Environmental Studies and History at the University of Kansas, and holds degrees from the University of Kansas, Harvard Law School, the London School of Economics, and Yale. Dr. Brooks practiced law for ten years in Idaho and served three terms in the Idaho Senate. Mayor of Lincoln Chris Beutler and Chair of the Lancaster County Board of Commissioners Bernie Heier will also be providing opening and closing comments. Community leaders will provide a presentation highlighting the accomplishments of each of the award recipients.

On May 27, 2010, following public hearing, the StarTran Advisory Board approved revisions to the route and schedule of the #24, Holdrege route. The following describes the current service and approved revised services.

Current Service: StarTran currently operates #24, Holdrege route between the UNL East Campus and the UNL Downtown Campus/proximate area on weekdays, 7:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m., during fall and spring semesters except during UNL holiday/vacation periods. Level of services varies through the operating day, as follows:

- 7:00 a.m. - 2:00 p.m. – 3 buses – 15 minute headways
- 9:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m. – 1 booster bus on M, W, F – 15 minute headways
- 2:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m. – 2 buses – 30 minute headways
- 4:00 p.m. - 6:00 p.m. – 1 bus – 60 minute headways

Ridership generally averages around 250,000/year (248,000 in F.Y. 2008-09), primarily comprised of UNL faculty, students and staff. The associated costs of this service are compensated by UNL.

Approved Revised Service: UNL officials, as follow-up to the UNL “Transit System Evaluation”, as conducted by Chance Management Advisors, Inc, recently requested that StarTran revise the #24, Holdrege route and increase service hours by about 50% (4,650 to 7,160 hours). Such service changes would begin at the start of the 2010-11 academic year.

Attached is a map showing the proposed revised Route #24. The revised route is proposed to be operated from 7:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m., utilizing 8 buses - 4 StarTran and 4 UNL buses – the entire time each weekday. The StarTran buses would travel clockwise and the UNL buses would travel counter-clockwise. This would result in 10-minute headways each direction, 7:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m. Route revisions are primarily in the downtown and UNL downtown campus areas. UNL faculty, students, and staff may utilize either the StarTran or UNL buses operating on the revised route, with non-UNL affiliated persons only able to utilize the StarTran buses. StarTran will utilize StarTran and UNL bus stops. UNL will utilize only UNL signed bus stops. (See “Bus Stop” designations on attached map.)

Comment or Question:
Correction to a typographical error I made in a note to all Council members. So sorry for my blunder!

I am moving to Lincoln NE on 6/2/10 as I love the city of Lincoln and its amenities! I feel it is the most wonderful city to live in!

However, as a person with a disability that uses a Service Dog, I discovered your city is NOT Service Dog friendly or educated on Service Dog laws: regarding Nebraska Revised Statutes, and Code of Federal Regulations laws on Service Dogs.

I am referring to a city ordinance 6.08.065 that is not in legal compliance with NRS 54-603 and CFR 28 C.F.R. 36.104.

I would like to meet with the City Council and present the discrepancies and violations Lincoln's ordinance has, and provide you a copy of both State and Federal laws that your city should model and be in compliance with.

During my attempts to bring this matter to the attention of appropriate city officials, I have met with much rudeness, ignorance-by-choice, and refusal to allow me to talk with city officials or have the city official return my calls.

I have been very shocked and disappointed in how rudely I have been treated on the phone while trying to resolve the problem, and help protect the city's best interests regarding disability discrimination.

I consider this a very serious situation of discrimination against people with disabilities in the City of Lincoln.

I truly hope you will be receptive and pro-active to my concerns.

I look forward to meeting with you!

With Warm Regards,
Roxann Hamilton, M.Ed.

The CHE Board of Trustees also approved a resolution to move forward as a partner with the City of Lincoln and the Great Plains Trails Network (GPTN) in the construction of an "Active Living Center." The center, scheduled for construction in Union Plaza of Antelope Valley on the southeast corner of 21st and Q Streets, will serve as a cornerstone of healthy, active living in Lincoln. The Active Living Center will house the Great Plains Trails Center, which will include a community meeting area, information on active living and Lincoln’s trail system and public restrooms, as well as CHE offices and meeting area, and a wellness-oriented retail space.

"Antelope Valley and Union Plaza represent a blending of Lincoln’s ideals, culture and vision of the future," said Mayor Chris Beutler. "The Active Living Center is a perfect addition to this area and will give active living a prominent place in the core of our community. This collaborative project is another sign that it is an exciting time to be living in Lincoln," he said.

According to Ed Wimes, Chair of the CHE Board of Trustees, "The CHE Board of Trustees believes that this project is an investment in the health of Lincoln. We are pleased to be part of this collaborative and visionary project."

Wimes stressed, "An investment in the Active Living Center will not impact our grant funding to the community. CHE’s commitment to providing funding to local non-profits who serve vulnerable populations remains as strong as ever."

"The Great Plains Trails Network, which has pledged to raise $250,000 for this Center, has long supported a center highlighting Lincoln’s outstanding trails network," according to Gary Bentrup, president of GPTN. "This network is being strengthened by the Antelope Valley trails and will be highlighted by a Center providing resources for active living such as bicycles, trails information, and refreshments. It will be the center hub for all of the trails in the city and the southeast Nebraska area."

Construction of the Active Living Center is expected to begin in July of 2010 with occupancy planned for September of 2011.

The Community Health Endowment of Lincoln was established in 1998 and has granted more than $12 million to help make Lincoln the healthiest city in the nation. For more information about grant guidelines and application deadlines, visit CHE’s website.

The Lincoln voters have made a horrible decision to proceed with the arena project that will cause our property taxes to skyrocket to pay for the $344 million general obligation bond.

It is most distressing that apparently the taxpayers will be stuck with environmental clean-up costs on land to be purchased. It is incomprehensible to me how supposedly intelligent elected officials would put the taxpayers in such a vulnerable position. Anyone with a lick of common sense would always require the seller to pay for environmental clean-up costs. I have had some experience as a lender and in handling inventory properties with the Environmental Protection Agency. The cost of clean-up almost always greatly exceeds by many times the cost of estimates.

It really makes me mad as hell that I will have to pay to clean-up environmental waste on property that will be purchased from Warren Buffett. This is a prime example of taking from the poor and giving to the rich. It almost makes me wonder if there was some sort of conclusion going on that caused the mayor and other elected officials to be suckered by the wizard from Omaha.

This whole thing STINKS!!!!

TO: Mr. Warren Buffett
Berkshire Hathaway Inc.
3555 Farnam Street
Omaha, NE 68131

Dear Mr. Buffett,

I am writing because it appears that I and other Lincoln, Nebraska taxpayers are going to have to pay for environmental cleanup on property now owned by Burlington Northern Santa Fe Railroad. I believe that the city of Lincoln is now in the process of attempting to purchase approximately 67 acres that will be used for the construction of an Arena that in my opinion is a stupid move.

I understand that the cost of environmental cleanup on this property is to be assumed by the city of Lincoln that of course will be passed on to the Lincoln taxpayers. I cannot believe how supposedly intelligent councilpersons would agree to such a stupid arrangement.

Mr. Buffett you obviously have a lot more money than I can even dream of and it is totally unfair that I will have to pay to clean up your mess. If you have any conscience at all you should remedy the environmental cleanup instead of dumping the cost on to me and other Lincoln taxpayers. If this occurs it is something that I will never forget.

Sincerely:

H. Eugene Cook

PUBLIC INVITED TO ANNIVERSARY EVENT AT THE VETERANS MEMORIAL GARDEN

Mayor Chris Beutler today invited Lincoln area residents to observe the 21st anniversary of the Veterans Memorial Garden in Antelope Park at a ceremony at 10 a.m. Saturday, June 12. The event will feature the dedication and unveiling of a new memorial honoring Nebraska’s 19 WWII Women Airforce Service Pilots.

Between 1942 and 1944, 1,102 women served as civilian service pilots for the U.S. Army Air Forces. The four living Nebraska pilots have been invited to attend the ceremony. They are Lois A. Bristol (originally from Bayard), Peoria, Arizona; Millicent A. Peterson (originally from Chappel), Colorado Springs; B. Kristin Swan (originally from Minden), Paoli, Pennsylvania; and Mary E. Williamson, Omaha.

The women pilots participated in instructor training, towed targets for practice, transported personnel and cargo, and ferried airplanes to other points, freeing male pilots for combat. Evelyn Sharp from Ord, Nebraska was a member of the original group, the Women’s Auxiliary Ferrying Squadron (WAFS), and was killed while on duty. In 1943, the pilots were redesignated Women Airforce Service Pilots (WASP). By December 1944, when they were disbanded, the women had logged more than 60 million miles in military airplanes. In 1977, Congress granted the pilots veteran status, and on March 10, 2010, they were awarded the Congressional Gold Medal.

The ceremony also will include a flyover by five pilots in WWII planes at 9:55 a.m.; the ringing of the Nebraska Liberty Bell; solos by singer Trudy DuMay; Edwin Mukusha on bagpipes; “Taps” played by Lumir Vajgrt; a recognition of Gold Star Families; and the dedication of 153 new memorial bricks.

In case of rain, the event will be held in the Auld Recreation Center at Antelope Park.

For more information on the event, contact Keith Fickenscher of the Mayor’s Advisory Committee for the Veterans Memorial Garden at 440-2997.

Comment or Question:
Who is responsible for keeping the walkway of the Harris Overpass (the bridge on O St. between 9th and 2nd) clean. Often there is fresh broken glass on it and I have to cross it on my bike to get to work. Please let me know if cleaning it is the state, county or cities job. I also would like to know how to handle a complaint of broken glass on the sidewalk in front of a home or business and which city dept. is in charge of removing all the broken, jagged, metal remnants of sign posts that the city sidewalks are riddled with. Thank you.

Respectfully,
Brian S. Stilwell

Please consider making the arts a priority in the City budget by continuing support for the Lincoln Arts Council.

Before and after school youth programming, neighborhood beautification, economic development, healthcare/recreation, generating tax revenue and cultural tourism, to name a few, are all made stronger through the arts. Businesses thinking about relocating search for a community where culture is a valued part of the ambience.

The Lincoln Arts Mean Business study conducted in 2005 showed that the arts generate $36 million dollars in economic activity per year in Lincoln, delivering more than $3.4 million in local and state government revenue.

Arts play a vital role in the development of children, and the Lincoln Arts Council is committed to providing arts education opportunities. The Lincoln Arts Council advocates for arts education through artist residency programs at Lincoln Public Schools. Another major goal of the Lincoln Arts Council is to highlight Lincoln as a cultural destination point. Thinkin' Lincoln, a $25,000 project funded by the State Department of Tourism, is a massive effort to get people to travel to Lincoln for arts and culture events, which generate revenue for the City.

Thank you for your continued support of the arts in the city of Lincoln.

Sidewalks are a vital part of most Lincoln neighborhoods. They provide a place for exercise and recreation, and a safe way for children and adults to walk to school and public transit. But when sidewalks are badly uneven or cracked, they become a hazard and a neighborhood eyesore.

For most of Lincoln's history, property owners bore the responsibility for keeping sidewalks in repair. Then, in 1990, through a popular referendum, citizens voted to place all of that responsibility on the city. Since then, due to budget constraints, the city has fallen further and further behind each year in keeping up with needed sidewalk replacement and repair.

According to the Public Works Department, the city is currently repairing approximately 35,000 feet of sidewalk each year, which amounts to 1.7 percent of the repair needs. It is estimated that Lincoln is more than $60 million behind in sidewalk replacement and curb ramp construction.

At the mayor's recent "Taking Charge" budget planning event, participants were given three choices for dealing with the sidewalk problem: 1. Reduce the backlog of repairs by increasing property taxes by $2.50 per month for the average homeowner for 15 years. 2. Returning responsibility for sidewalk repairs to adjacent homeowners. 3. Continue with the current funding, which will increase the backlog exponentially in the coming years.

Something needs to be done about our sidewalks, and I believe there is another alternative to the three presented above. Why not have property owners and the city share both the responsibility and the costs of maintaining sidewalks? Let's put a new initiative on the ballot that would require sidewalks to be repaired to a reasonable safety standard. The city could do the work or allow property owners either to contract with a private company or do the work themselves, so long as it passes inspection. Costs would be allocated on a sliding scale, based on the property owner's ability to pay.

The result would be that low-income homeowners (this would include many senior citizens on fixed incomes) could get their sidewalk repairs done at little or no cost to themselves, but the costs for most repairs would be borne jointly by both the city and the property owner, based on an assessment of income and assets.

In my opinion, this would be the most fair way to allocate the costs and meet the goal of reducing the backlog of needed sidewalk repairs. The alternative of continuing at the current rate of sidewalk repairs is unacceptable.

Dear Mayor Beutler,

I am writing this letter in support of keeping the funding in the City’s budget to retain The Lincoln Commission on Human Rights (LCHR).

I have had the pleasure of serving on the LCHR for the past four years, finishing the term of a Commissioner who was not able to finish her appointment and then being appointed for a term of my own. I am serving my second year as the current Chair.

As a REALTOR®, Fair Housing plays an important role to my profession and by license law; I am required to take a Fair Housing class every 2 years. I assure you that I have taken classes regarding Fair Housing far beyond what is required for my license as this is a topic I am passionate about.

Should Lincoln not have its own Civil Rights agency, we, as citizens of the State of Nebraska have the Nebraska Equal Opportunity Commission (NEOC) that complaints can be filed with.

While both LCHR and NEOC do excellent work, LCHR differs from NEOC in several key matters:

1) The NEOC will only consider employment discrimination involving companies that have 15+ employees; LCHR accepts cases involving companies with 4+ employees.

2) As a state, Nebraska does not have a law preventing discrimination based on disability regarding public accommodations. That means, if a restaurant, store etc only has stairs and no ramp in, there is nothing that can be done at the state level. NEOC will not take these cases, LCHR will.

3) The state limits age discrimination at 70 years of age, where the city does not have a limit on age discrimination

4) In the area of housing, marital status is not protected at the state level but is at the city level. So single mothers denied housing on that basis could not turn to the NEOC, but could go to LCHR.
5) Cases must be filed within 10 days of incident for the NEOC, LCHR allows up to 1 year to file in accommodation cases.

A few years ago, the Nebraska Attorney General’s Office, who is the agency the NEOC is reliant on, refused to act on a discrimination case because the persons filing the case may not have been in our country as documented persons. This caused The Department Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to decertify the NEOC. HUD and LCHR became the agencies that continued the cases that NEOC had ongoing during this time.

I think the citizens of Lincoln deserve to know that their city cares enough about them that they are willing to have their own Civil Rights agency enforcing discrimination laws. Laws which are broader based than the state, and are not in jeopardy of being ignored because a public office holder has their own political agenda.

We are constantly promoting Lincoln as a great place to live and grow. We are constantly enticing business to come build with us. We are hosting the 2010 Special Olympics. Let’s put our stamp of disapproval on discrimination by showing we are committed to making Lincoln a better place to live, work and play. Let’s have our own Civil Rights Agency and take a solid stand against discrimination.

Respectfully,

Wendy Francis

Ross stated on the liquor license applications emails were received from the Law Department. She then stated items to be called together. Spatz thought to pull two and do separately. Ross continued saying on #21 there has been a request to delay public hearing one week to June 14th. Cook questioned why. Confer thought bond counsel wanted extra time to review, with Cook asking if they would bring a substitute?

Ross said under upcoming resolutions with public hearing on the 14th had a request on #54 to delay introduction, and bring back. Cook commented we could remove and put back on next week with Ross agreeing and adding they want public hearing on June 21st.
