CITY PROPOSES CHANGES FOR
WATERING VIOLATIONS AND WATER RATES

Council to discuss recommendations today

The City Public Works and Utilities Department is proposing to decriminalize watering violations issued during periods when the City is under mandatory water restrictions. The Department also is proposing to establish water shortage rates to encourage conservation during drought conditions. The Lincoln City Council is scheduled to hold a pre-council meeting on the Department’s recommendations at 4:30 p.m. today in Room 113 of the County-City Building, 555 S. 10th Street. The regular City Council meeting begins at 5:30 p.m.

“After our experience last summer, Mayor Beutler directed us to review all our water plans and procedures to see where we could make improvements,” said Miki Esposito, Public Works and Utilities Director. “The changes we are announcing this spring are the result of months of work. The goal is to reduce public confusion and inconvenience while still encouraging conservation and maintaining our water supply during periods of drought. We look forward to hearing from the public on these proposed changes.”

The proposal to decriminalize watering violations will be introduced at today’s Council meeting. A public hearing will be held Monday, May 6, and the Council will vote on Monday May 13. The resolution on drought rates will be introduced at the Council meeting May 6, with a public hearing and vote on May 13.

Watering violations are currently a misdemeanor offense. The proposal decriminalizes violations by handling them administratively. Egregious or multiple violations may be filed criminally by the City Attorney’s Office. If the changes are adopted, the penalty is $150 for the first offense, $250 for the second offense and $350 for third and subsequent offenses. The Police Department will continue to enforce watering restrictions, but officers would not be required to present the citation to the tenant or property owner in person and could leave it on the door of the property.

Water rates are already set to encourage conservation. City water is billed by the unit, equal to 100 cubic feet (748 gallons), and the residential structure has three price blocks. Under the proposal, the residential rates would change when the Mayor declares voluntary or mandatory water restrictions:

- more -

Watering Violations and Rates
• The rate for block one (first eight units per month) would remain at $1.344 per unit for voluntary restrictions and increase to $1.559 per unit for mandatory restrictions.
• The rate for block two (nine to 23 units) would increase from $1.911 to $2.624 per unit for voluntary restrictions and to $2.771 per unit for mandatory restrictions.
• The rate for block three (all additional units) would increase from $2.961 to $4.587 per unit for voluntary restrictions and to $5.635 per unit for mandatory restrictions.

The rates increase again if the water shortage is deemed to be “critical” or “catastrophic.” Customers’ actual bills are determined by how much water they use in each block.

“The goal of the water shortage rates is to create a price signal to customers that encourages water conservation and efficient use, while keeping the system revenue neutral,” Esposito said. “Customers who conserve should see little or no impact on their bills. But those who engage in wasteful or inefficient use during drought will pay more.”

Under the new proposal, water rates for non-residential and industrial customers also would increase slightly under voluntary or mandatory watering restrictions. Esposito said the rate increase would be smaller because these customers provide jobs for the community, and the water use for large customers is more stable throughout the year.

Last week, the Department announced revisions to the Water Management Plan. These changes were approved by Mayor Beutler and do not require ordinance changes. Under the revised plan, if mandatory restrictions are implemented, apartment complexes and commercial properties will be required to limit outdoor watering to Sundays, Tuesdays and Fridays regardless of address.

If mandatory restrictions are implemented, the designated day watering schedule will remain the same for single-family and duplex properties:

- Properties with street addresses ending in even numbers, including zero, will be required to limit outdoor water use (watering lawns and washing vehicles) to Wednesdays, Fridays and Sundays.
- Properties with addresses ending in odd numbers will be required to limit outdoor watering to Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

The revised plan also includes changes for private well owners:

- Owners of private wells are encouraged but not required to follow the designated day watering schedule and other restrictions imposed on LWS customers.
- If the Mayor implements mandatory water use restrictions, private well owners will be required to post a sign on each property that is served by the well. The City will supply the signs at no charge. For homes and businesses, owners must post the signs so they are visible from the street. For areas not directly associated with a structure, yard signs will be available to pick up at the LWS Operations Center, 2021 N. 27th Street, from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.

More information is available by visiting water.lincoln.ne.gov or calling the Water Management Hotline at 402-441-1212.
TEMPORARY NO PARKING AREAS IN EFFECT FOR MARATHON

The City Public Works and Utilities Department will implement additional parking restrictions Sunday, May 5 along the route of the Lincoln Marathon. On-street parking will be prohibited in all areas where temporary no parking signs are posted. The temporary parking restrictions will be in effect at 5 a.m. Sunday and will be removed when the last runner has cleared the area.

The additional temporary no parking signs will be posted along the following roadways:

Storm Water Project Advisory
North 28th Street; P Street - Q Street
Project No. 705323B

The City of Lincoln has awarded a contract for storm water improvements in North 28th Street from P Street to Q Street. Skoda Construction of Lincoln, Nebraska has been awarded the contract for completion of this work.

The contractor has indicated work will begin May 6, 2013. The completion date for the project is June 1, 2013. This project will replace the existing storm sewer pipe which is under the center of North 28th Street. The construction will require the closure of North 28th Street and vehicles will be prohibited from parking on North 28th Street while the contractor is completing the work. Access to driveways will also be restricted and closed as the work progresses. The construction will be within the paved limits of North 28th Street and should not impact the adjoining driveways or yards.

The construction work will be focused on North 28th Street, but the contractor will need to store equipment and materials on the adjoining blocks of Q Street and P Street. The intersections of 28th and P Street and 28th and Q Street will also be restricted while the contractor completes the storm sewer pipe construction.

We request the patience and cooperation of residents and drivers in this area as the contractor progresses with this work. The Public Works and Utilities Department will administer this contract.

For those unfamiliar with this invasive plant, the name itself can be difficult. Sericea lespedeza is a perennial that grows well in grasslands and pastures as well as along roadsides and drainage areas. It is mainly found in southeast and south-central Nebraska, though it has the potential to invade range and grasslands statewide. The herbarium record shows that sericea lespedeza was first collected in Richardson County in 1974 but has spread to 3,000 acres in Nebraska. The reason for introduction is unknown, but has been promoted in other states for wildlife habitat, used as a hay crop in southern United States or from contaminated seed or hay.

As with many invasive species, learning to identify it is half the battle. The plant generally grows 3 - 4 feet tall, but will grow anywhere between 2 – 7 feet tall and can be identified by its alternate leaves. Lower leaf surfaces tend to have short hairs. Stems are straight, slender, and grooved and can have short hairs. Flowers, which bloom in late summer, range in color from white to cream to light yellow. Sericea lespedeza can be not only challenging to pronounce, but to get rid of as well. It is an extremely aggressive invader of open areas. Dense monocultures of thickets are formed due to its ability to sprout from root crowns. Established sericea lespedeza plants will reduce or eliminate competing native vegetation, thus impacting native ecosystems and reducing carrying capacity for livestock (it is not palatable to most livestock).

A combination of two or more control methods (mechanical, chemical, etc.) is the best approach when controlling sericea lespedeza. By utilizing several control options, your odds become greater that more plants will be controlled. Existing infestations spread rapidly through seed dispersal, which can be carried by wildlife, livestock, contaminated hay, vehicles and equipment. Continued monitoring and follow-up are essential for maintaining and reducing infestations.

Everyone’s cooperation is needed in spotting and preventing new infestations. Early vigilance and action will prevent the huge cost of controlling large stands of sericea lespedeza. Making sericea lespedeza a noxious weed statewide allows County Weed Authorities to educate landowners on how to identify sericea lespedeza, make them better prepared to spot new infestations and eliminate small infestations before they become widespread.

In addition to sericea lespedeza, Nebraska has 11 additional noxious weeds: Canada thistle, leafy spurge, musk thistle, plumeless thistle, purple loosestrife, spotted knapweed, diffuse knapweed, saltcedar, phragmites, Japanese knotweed, and giant knotweed. The addition of sericea lespedeza to the noxious weed list will aid in efforts preventing its spread beyond southeastern Nebraska.

UNL - Herbarium Tour

Lancaster County Weed Control hosted the April meeting of the Nebraska Weed Control Associations Region 1 superintendents.

Robert Kaul, Curator & Research Professor of the Charles E. Bessey Herbarium located on UNL Campus, lead the group on a very interesting tour of how plants are processed and stored.

During my career I have been part of making collections in the field. We put the plant in a press and sent it off to the herbarium, but never really understood what happened to a plant once they received it.

It was interesting to see plants that were collected and stored from the late 1800’s. I was amazed that they are still in very good condition.

With technology today we are able to share, very easily, information from around the world. Recently I saw a map that showed yellow starthistle reported in Lancaster County.

This was a concern; since I was aware that California, Oregon and other western states were having a very difficult time trying to manage this plant. Mr. Kaul was able to show us the actual yellow starthistle plant specimen that was collected in Lincoln in 1908. No reports have been received since that time, so I hope this is a case of what we refer to today as Early Detection – Rapid Response.

The species are kept forever, for future generations to learn from. Lancaster County has 895 plant species recorded at the herbarium.

Mayor Chris Beutler
555 South 10th Street
Lincoln, NE 68508

Dear Mayor Beutler:

First, this is an unsolicited request regarding People’s City Mission (PCM). People’s City Mission is a valuable agency in this community. It provides emergency short term shelter for hundreds of families each year. It also provides meals and a medical clinic; a day center for the homeless; and soon, a long-term living facility for pregnant and parenting young mothers, ages 16-24. In short, they are a vital part of our city and a great “community partner”.

Having been to the Mission on many occasions during or after a rainfall, I can personally attest to how bad, mucky and muddy the roads are. By the time you walk from your car to the Mission your shoes are covered with mud, as are your pants, socks, and yes – your car. PCM is not asking too much when they ask the City to please pave their roads. It isn’t just for the benefit of their clients; but also for the community at large with whom they interact, i.e.: business leaders, human service agencies, faith leaders, etc. I would urge the Mayor (and City Council) to vote YES on paving the roads around PCM. Perhaps the City and local businesses could split the cost. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

As a young downtown business owner and resident I'd like to take a moment to express my support for the entertainment district ordinance. There has been much discussion in Lincoln over the past several years about the attraction and retention of young professionals in our community. The best way to do that is offer amenities that appeal to my age group.

As a 2009 UNL grad I can attest to the fact that Lincoln is a great city to live, but is getting even better with the addition of the arena and the surrounding development. People in my age group often avoid the "O Street scene" and need a place to socialize that offers a mix of restaurants, bars, and other events that appeal to 20-30 somethings. I get the opportunity to travel fairly frequently for my job and I always make a point to explore other city's downtown areas. What I often find are great restaurants and bars that I'd love to see in our city. The appealing thing about an entertainment district is the ability to patronize many different businesses and enjoy an outdoor/common courtyard with friends. A similar concept in Kansas City is a destination for my friends and I whenever we visit. The ability to host events like 5Ks that end in the courtyard or other special events create an even more exciting atmosphere for people to enjoy.

I appreciate your consideration for ordinance and hope you agree that the addition of an entertainment district will be valuable for the Haymarket, all of downtown, the city of Lincoln, and makes our community a more attractive place for the best and brightest young professionals!

Thanks!
Ashlie
Members of the City Council,

I am sorry that I am unable to attend your meeting this evening, but I want to bring to your attention a very important issue to downtown business owners, and specifically, business owners in and around Lincoln’s existing entertainment district at 14th and O.

The amendment to Section 5.04 of the Lincoln Municipal Code that sits before you tonight is flawed. First, the process to create this document included only developers from the Haymarket with no representation from any business owners in the 14th and O Street area. As such, the document was crafted purely for the benefit of developers selected by Urban Development, and clearly to the detriment to those businesses at 14th and O.

The goal of the Amendment is to bring entertainment opportunities to areas near entertainment venues, but in reality, this amendment will have a chilling effect on investment in other parts of downtown outside of the haymarket.

The idea that an entertainment district needs to be tied to a particular venue is totally unfair to the businesses at 14th and O. Currently, if that venue were to cease to exist, the entertainment district would have to close when its license expired - within two years. While this may work for the Arena – a publicly funded venue that will be in place for a very long time, it will not work in an area where the attached venue is privately owned, and where potential developers and investors have no direct or indirect control over that venue.

In many municipalities, when creating entertainment districts, the existing entertainment districts are carved out and allowed to operate just like the other entertainment districts throughout the municipality. In Lincoln’s case, what has been created in this revision of 5.04 is a competitive barrier for anyone outside the shadow of the arena. Surely this is not what the council intended to do to Lincoln’s locally owned businesses downtown.

While I am in favor of Senator Coash’s original bill that created entertainment districts, and while I do believe that creating and allowing entertainment districts will be good for Lincoln and its residents – I do not believe that we should be creating opportunities for one class of people or one group of developers, while stifling investment and creativity amongst the creative class in our city. If we are going to create entertainment districts, then we should do it with the idea of including Lincoln’s historic Entertainment District at 14th and O.

It is my hope that you will consider revisions to 5.04 over the next week, and take no action this evening.

Thank you.

Dear Council Members:

I like decriminalizing violations and using pricing to control water consumption when there is a need to do so.

As the penalties, the first offense should not be $150. Much too high. It should be $25-50 at most. It should be more of a courtesy reminder/warning rather than a huge cost. Do the plan on any warnings before issuing the first offense? The first offense should also provide notice as to the cost of subsequent violations. Take them up as high as they want after that. What do they do with this money? Is it a penalty that is paid into the school fund?

As to Mayoral declarations for either voluntary or mandatory restriction requirements, that should not be how the rate increase happens. At present, there is a financial penalty (lost revenue) for the City to order mandatory water restrictions and hence a check on declaring one. The stated goal of the revised rate structure: “The goal of the water shortage rates is to create a price signal to customers that encourages water conservation and efficient use, while keeping the system revenue neutral,” Esposito said.

Several thoughts: The revised rate structure should not apply to “voluntary” watering restrictions. This will balance the loss revenue to the City with the interest of water conservation. The mayor or Water Department can continue making that determination.

The determination of when to impose the mandatory restrictions and accompanying revised structure should not be up to the Mayor alone. There should be objective standards as to when it will be implemented. My preference is that the Mayor makes a water emergency recommendation to the Council, and the Council, after public hearing, votes to impose it or not. This would restore some check and balance to implement the revised rate structure.

As to the structure proposed below, what prevents a Mayor from wanting to make the City “Greener” and imposing voluntary restrictions to be “sustainable”? There is no cost to the City in doing so. I don’t want that.

I have no way to know if the revised rate schedule is fair or not. If we have a water emergency, the rates should increase to the level to get water consumption down to a sustainable level.

My thoughts for now. Hopefully you have found my thoughts to be helpful.

The City Public Works and Utilities Department is proposing to decriminalize watering violations issued during periods when the City is under mandatory water restrictions. The Department also is proposing to establish water shortage rates to encourage conservation during drought conditions.

The proposal to decriminalize watering violations will have a public hearing Monday, May 6, and the Council will vote on Monday May 13. The resolution on drought rates will be introduced at the Council meeting May 6, with a public hearing and vote on May 13.
Watering violations are currently a misdemeanor offense. The proposal decriminalizes violations by handling them administratively. Egregious or multiple violations may be filed criminally by the City Attorney’s Office. If the changes are adopted, the penalty is $150 for the first offense, $250 for the second offense and $350 for third and subsequent offenses. The Police Department will continue to enforce watering restrictions, but officers would not be required to present the citation to the tenant or property owner in person and could leave it on the door of the property.

Water rates are already set to encourage conservation. City water is billed by the unit, equal to 100 cubic feet (748 gallons), and the residential structure has three price blocks. Under the proposal, the residential rates would change when the Mayor declares voluntary or mandatory water restrictions. The rate for block one (first eight units per month) would remain the same at $1.344 per unit. The rate for block two (nine to 23 units) would increase from $1.911 to $2.624 per unit. The rate for block three (all additional units) would increase from $2.961 to $4.587 per unit.

“The goal of the water shortage rates is to create a price signal to customers that encourages water conservation and efficient use, while keeping the system revenue neutral,” Esposito said. “Customers who conserve should see little or no impact on their bills. But those who engage in wasteful or inefficient use during drought will pay more.”

Under the new proposal, water rates for non-residential and industrial customers also would increase slightly under voluntary or mandatory watering restrictions. Esposito said the rate increase would be smaller because these customers provide jobs for the community, and the water use for large customers is more stable throughout the year.

Last week, the Department announced revisions to the Water Management Plan. These changes were approved by Mayor Beutler and do not require ordinance changes.

Under the revised plan, if mandatory restrictions are implemented, apartment complexes and commercial properties will be required to limit outdoor watering to Sundays, Tuesdays and Fridays regardless of address.

If mandatory restrictions are implemented, the designated day watering schedule will remain the same for single-family and duplex properties:

• Properties with street addresses ending in even numbers, including zero, will be required to limit outdoor water use (watering lawns and washing vehicles) to Wednesdays, Fridays and Sundays.
• Properties with addresses ending in odd numbers will be required to limit outdoor watering to Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

The revised plan also includes changes for private well owners:
• Owners of private wells are encouraged but not required to follow the designated day watering schedule and other restrictions imposed on LWS customers.
• If the Mayor implements mandatory water use restrictions, private well owners will be required to post a sign on each property that is served by the well. The City will supply the signs at no charge. For homes and businesses, owners must post the signs so they are visible from the street. For areas not directly associated with a structure, yard signs will be available to pick up at the LWS Operations Center, 2021 N. 27th Street, from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.

I would like to direct you to the Secondary Material and Recycled Textile website that assists municipalities in writing consumer and business friendly ordinances surrounding Donation Boxes and Textile Recycling. This is a much larger issue for your city than just Donation Boxes, as it is also environmental that needs both non-profits and for-profits working together to eliminate textiles and clothing going into the landfill by utilizing multiple forms of collection processes.

I do not run a business in your state, but thought this may help to educate you on the Textile Recycling industry and the many programs surrounding Textile Recycling. Please feel free to call me if you need additional resources.

ARENA TO BE FINISHED MONTH AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

The members of the West Haymarket Joint Public Agency (JPA) today announced that the JPA will take possession of the Pinnacle Bank Arena August 14, one month ahead of schedule. Mayor Chris Beutler, Councilman Gene Carroll and NU Regent Tim Clare credited the people involved for completing the project on budget and sooner than originally planned.

“This was a monumental project being done under an incredibly tight time frame,” said Mayor Beutler, JPA Chair. “There were probably a thousand things that could have gone wrong, and we did have a couple of challenges along the way, but at the end of the day we did it right. We hired the best, and the visible result of those good decisions is now gleaming on the City of Lincoln’s horizon to the west.”

The Mayor recognized the JPA’s project team and the Mortenson-Hampton construction team.

“It was very important to those of us in Lincoln to make sure this historically large project was not only a catalyst for new development, but that it also provided much needed jobs for our community,” Beutler said. “Hampton and Mortenson took the lead, reaching out to all our local craft workers, getting them engaged in the project as well as engaging our local businesses by helping them team with larger firms so they could get their employees on the job site and working. Mortenson, taking their vast experience in sports construction of projects this size, stepped up to help us construct a state of the art civic arena under the stresses of an aggressive timeline and construction within and next to active railroad lines.”

Beutler also thanked BNSF Railway for its cooperation in moving railroad tracks and the Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality for its assistance with the successful environmental cleanup in the West Haymarket area.

SMG announced yesterday that the first concert at the Pinnacle Bank Arena will be Canadian singer Michael Bublé on Friday, September 13. The latest CD from the Grammy Award winner debuted at number one on Billboard Magazine’s Top 200 pop charts, and the artist has sold more than 30 million records worldwide. The concert is one of several grand opening events being planned. Two other concerts were announced previously – Jason Aldean on September 19 and Pink on November 9.

PARK IN HAYMARKET REDEDICATED TO RECOGNIZE FORMER MAYOR HARRIS

Mayor Chris Beutler and members of the Harris family today participated in a rededication ceremony for the Bill Harris Iron Horse Park in Lincoln’s Haymarket area. Harris, who passed away in January 2011, was Mayor of Lincoln from 1987 through 1991 and was a State Senator from 1983 through 1987. Harris’s wife MarySue and children Ben Hormel Harris and Elizabeth “Buff” Harris-Colarossi unveiled a new bronze tribute plaque to Mayor Harris placed on a brick column at the park’s east entrance archway.

The Mayor thanked the Harris family for establishing an endowment fund with the Lincoln Parks Foundation for the future care of the park. He said Harris provided the “visionary leadership” that transformed a former warehouse district into the thriving Historic Haymarket, setting the stage for the Pinnacle Bank Arena and other development in the West Haymarket.

“Now, we are literally building on the foundation of the early vision that Mayor Harris had for the Haymarket,” Beutler said. “We are building on his commitment to, and belief in, the enormous potential of this area. We are building an economic engine that all of us—as well as the next generation of Lincolnites—will enjoy for many years to come.

Beutler said Harris also knew that importance of public spaces for festivals and events could take Lincoln to the next level in economic and cultural vitality. “During the Harris Administration, Farm Aid brought thousands of people to Lincoln,” he said. “And street festivals that started during the Harris years have inspired the development of new community festival and event spaces throughout the greater downtown area.”

PUBLIC SAFETY
Public Safety Director Casady stated over the weekend Lincoln held their marathon. When the Boston bombing occurred within minutes Fire Chief Fehringer reviewed what we needed to make sure our marathon was safe. This plan came together quickly with extra resources and planning. Very proud of the work accomplished by Lincoln Fire and Rescue and the Lincoln Police Department. An example of procedure included the State Patrol helicopter in the air with a live downlink to our mobile command post. The instant dispatch team activated plus technical work from the U. S. Army’s support team, the National Guard, State Patrol. Conducted bomb sweeps at the start and finish, like on game days, and extra personnel on the streets. Seven of our front line fire engine companies were stationed on the outer perimeters of the course.

Casady stated he received an email from a 23 year veteran Fire Captain who stated his experiences during the marathon were a highlight, and proud of what was accomplished. Casady commented when he went out Sunday it was almost impossible to navigate through town. Hope everyone realizes what a boom the marathon is for the City of Lincoln. A huge driver of economic activity.

Casady added we cannot have such an event without lots of safety and special events planning. Congratulations to Lincoln Fire and Rescue for everything accomplished.

Camp asked what larger aspects did the Fire Chief mention when stating this was a highlight? Casady replied one item decided the first 15 minutes after the Boston bombing, is realizing we have a resource in the Fire Companies, and we used to create official visibility. The Fire Chief experienced numerous thank you’s, high fives, spectators bringing coffee or snacks. Lots of goodwill.

Schimek extended congratulations to all involved. Camp thought this marathon was the best he’s seen. Regarding being able to get somewhere Antelope Valley helps, and able to get to his destination relatively quickly with police officers directing traffic at certain locations. Casady added the secret of driving during the marathon is staying on the perimeters. Eskridge stated the Mayor’s Fun Run is the day before, and not only is the weekend an economic push for Lincoln, but also for healthier lifestyles.
